

Woman Slays Husband In Station Wagon

LANDOVER HILLS, Md. — Charles Anthony Forame, 39, was shot to death by his wife Friday as the couple sat in a station wagon outside their home. Prince Georges County police reported.

Police said Mrs. Forame, 38, will be charged with murder. They quoted her as saying her husband had forsaken her and their three young children.

Frank Carey III, 14, said he was walking past the house on his way to school about 9 a. m. and heard a woman shout, "I don't care, I hate you."

Two shots were fired, he said. Mrs. Forame then walked toward him from the station wagon carrying a gun in her hand, he said.

"She told me I had better tell Miss Nellie to call police," said Frank.

He ran to the nearby home of Mrs. Nellie Bell to relay the message.

Detective Sgt. J. P. Kearns said Mrs. Forame blamed the shooting on domestic troubles. He said she gave the following account of the shooting and events leading up to it:

About a week ago, Forame left home. Mrs. Forame Friday morning had a friend drive her to Forame's awning shop in Capitol Heights.

The couple argued, and Forame drove his wife home. The argument was still going on when they reached home. Mrs. Forame asked her husband to take the household bills off her hands, and went in the house pretending to get the bills.

Instead of getting the bills, she picked up a .32 caliber revolver, put it in her purse and returned to the station wagon. The couple talked some more, and then Mrs. Forame fired.

Bomarc Shoot Is Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Technical troubles Friday prompted the Air Force to postpone a scheduled launching of the Bomarc ground-to-air missile, the key weapon in the U. S. air defense arsenal.

Officials said the shoot was "scrubbed" at 12:53 p. m. EST because of an undetermined malfunction in the launching equipment.

It was understood the flight plan for the launching called for the longest shot of a Bomarc to date. That meant the missile was aimed at a pilotless B17 drone bomber target more than 250 miles out on the south Atlantic range.

The launching was scheduled for 9 a. m. After numerous delays the countdown reached the three-minute mark once and then zero. Smoke fumes erupted from the base, but the missile's rocket booster was cut seconds later.

This is the same Bomarc the Boeing Airplane Co. has in mass production. It is the closest this country has come to an anti-missile missile.

Previous launchings have been highly successful, the Air Force said.

Reddick Convicted In Forgery Case

BALTIMORE — Dr. Robert H. Reddick, in trouble with the law for two years, was convicted today of counterfeiting and forging a medical certificate and false use of a public seal.

A jury of six men and six women returned its guilty verdict after deliberating 50 minutes. It ended a 4½-day trial of the rotund, 43-year-old onetime medical examining official.

Judge Anselm Sodaro withheld sentence pending a possible move for a new trial. Bail was doubled from $5,000 to $10,000.

The guilty verdict carries a penalty of up to 10 years imprisonment.

How They Voted On Welfare Bill

WASHINGTON — Here is how the senators voted Friday in defeating a 53-37 roll call vote an amendment to an employee pension and welfare bill to require the election of union officers by secret ballot.

Railroad To Furlough

JERSEY CITY, N. J. — The Jersey Central Railroad said Friday it will lay off 200 employees because of the discontinuance of 12 Baltimore & Ohio trains this weekend.

Found In Closet

BALTIMORE — The body of a woman found in a closet last Wednesday was identified by police as Alice Ramsey, 35, who lived at the house where she was found.

Authorities said she apparently died of natural causes.

Dies In Hotel

BALTIMORE — A man identified by police as Easton P. Egan, about 70, of Winchester, Va., died unexpectedly Friday in a downtown hotel.

Girl Loses Eye In Argument With Schoolboy

WASHINGTON — A boy was charged with assault Friday as the result of a fight at Stuart Junior High School in which a girl had her left eye severely injured that it had to be removed.

The girl, Viola Holloway, 14, was rushed to Episcopal Eye, Ear & Throat Hospital after the incident, which occurred at about 1:30 p. m. Thursday. She was operated on at 6 p. m.

According to Juvenile Squad detectives, the boy, 15, was walking toward a pencil sharpener when he fell over the girl's foot. He slapped her, there was an argument, and the girl fought back. The boy then struck the girl in the eye with his fist. The detectives said the boy denied having a pencil in his hand at the time.

Both students are in a special seventh-grade class.

State Mother Of Year Scoffs At Her Praises

ANNAPOLIS — Mrs. Grace Martin Hopkins thinks all the people talking about her "will never get to heaven after such exaggerations."

That's her reaction to the praise being heaped on her after selection as Maryland's "Mother of the Year."

The 70-year-old Laurel widow, mother of 4 and grandmother of 13, received her certificate from the American Mothers Committee Inc. Friday.

Gov. McKeldin made the presentation and included a citation and certificate of achievement from the State. He also gave her a cross made of wood from the Wye oak and a box of candy donated by the National Confectioners Assn.

Mrs. Hopkins' selection was unanimous, according to Mrs. Lucy V. Barnsley of Rockville, Maryland Mother of 1957 who headed the 1958 selection committee of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Hopkins, widow of a civil engineer who died in 1952, said she didn't believe she had a chance in a million of even being considered when her daughter nominated her for the honor.

The daughter, Mrs. William Anacker of Pikesville, was one of three children and three grandchildren who saw her honored Friday.

Mrs. Hopkins' youngest son, Thomas, is a lieutenant in the Navy and was unable to attend the ceremonies. But he hopes to join his mother in New York during the week of May 5 when the American Mother of the year will be chosen.

Mrs. Hopkins' other children are Dr. Joseph Martin Hopkins, minister and professor at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., and Mrs. Laurence Cooper of Newtown Square, Pa.

Negro Files Suit To Crack Va. Laws

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — A Washington Negro has filed a suit in U. S. District Court here to crack Virginia laws and customs of racial segregation in public eating places.

Charles E. Williams filed the suit against Howard Johnson's restaurant on Washington street, contending that it refused to serve him on April 20 because of his race.

The suit asks $500 damages each from the restaurant, the manager and a waitress.

Two Local Marines With Sixth Fleet

Two local Marines are serving with the Marine Corps' Northeastern Atlantic and Mediterranean Battalion of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

F. Patrick Allender, president, and William Mickey, delegate from Carpenters Local 1024, attended a meeting of the Maryland State Council of Carpenters in Baltimore last night.

Examiner Board Given Assist By M'Keldin

ANNAPOLIS — The State Board of Examiners of Psychologists is back in existence, with an assist from Gov. McKeldin.

The board waited off legislative attempts to kill it, but State legal authorities ruled the members out of office earlier this month because a Senate committee failed to act on their appointment by the governor.

McKeldin Friday renamed the five former board members, subject to the approval of the Senate. They will serve at least until the next session of the Legislature.

The five psychologists reappointed are Dr. Stanley D. Imber, Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Norris Roseman, Veterans Administration Mental Hygiene Clinic, Baltimore; Dr. Sherman Ross, University of Maryland; Dr. Jerry W. Carter, Community Services Branch, National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda, and Dr. Robert S. Waldrop, chief of vocational counseling, Veterans Administration, Washington.

As required by the 1957 law which set up the board, the five doctors were appointed by the governor from nominees submitted by the Maryland Psychological Assn. Inc.

Representatives of the attorney general's office told the governor earlier that the only way to straighten out the confused situation was to obtain a new list of nominees from the association and make new appointments.

The attorney general's opinion held that the terms of the board appointed by the governor last year ended with the adjournment of the Legislature in early March.

This ruling confirmed an informal opinion given members of the Senate Nominations Committee before they adjourned without approving the appointments.

The board was created by the 1957 Legislature to certify psychologists and McKeldin made recess appointments last July.

Difficulties arose at the 1958 Legislature when some senators made it clear they felt the board had been too restrictive in its failure to certify some applicants. Other senators were displeased with the attitude of a board member before a Senate committee.

Russians Give Bowl To Ike

WASHINGTON — A group of Russian veterans who linked up with Americans in World War II presented a red and gold wooden friendship bowl for President Eisenhower Friday.

Col. Robert Schulz, military aide to Eisenhower, accepted the gift and said Eisenhower regretted he could not receive it in person because of his schedule.

Boris Nikolaevich Kampov-Polevoy, headed the group and made the presentation, expressing best wishes for Eisenhower's health. Interpreting for him was Eugene Zaostrovsev, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy.

Four other Soviet veterans of the Elbe River meeting were in the group. They are in this country for a reunion with American veterans of the same battle.

List Of Spelling Words Was Wrong

BALTIMORE — Somebody goofed at the spelling bee—and it wasn't only the losing contestants. Part way through the Sunpapers contest it was discovered the word list being used contained at least four misspelled words.

Young Stephen Nichols spelled "Ophthalmologist" correctly but was called down on the basis of the incorrect list. It showed the word began "oph—" etc. When the error was discovered Stephen was reinstated and went on to win the Baltimore County title.

Recession Caused Man To Open Stills

BALTIMORE — A man who said he started up two whisky stills because of the recession drew a jail term and fine Friday.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomson sentenced Thomas Smith Evans Jr., 37-year-old father of two, of near Fruitland, to six months and fined him $500.

Evans told the court "things are pretty tight down our way" and he had tried to raise money to open a sea food business.

He pleaded guilty to possession of two 15-gallon stills.

30-Day Term, Fine Affirmed

Jacob E. Pryor, Polish Mountain, who was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 and costs March 14 by Magistrate Morris Baron, had judgement affirmed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court in one of three criminal appeals heard by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

A bench warrant was to have been issued for the appellant, who failed to appear in court at the specified time but before the warrant was issued the defendant showed up.

The case against Howard Abbott Bittner, city, charged with violation of parole imposed in Juvenile Court by Magistrate Fred H. Anderson, was dismissed by the state. This action came after Bittner's wife said she was satisfied with the support her husband is now providing. The couple has seven children.

Melvin Wilson, 53, who was appealing a four-month jail term on a charge of vagrancy, the court found him guilty but suspended sentence on condition he leave the city. Wilson said he would go to California. He had served a month in jail.

Clarence J. Northcraft, city, charged with assaulting his wife and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Magistrate Morris Baron, was found not guilty.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, presented the state's cases.

Legion District Meets Sunday

Mountain District American Legion will meet at the Lonaconing American Legion post home Sunday at 2:15 p. m. DST, to determine the future of Junior Legion baseball in the county. Only two posts supported and sponsored teams last year. They are Port Cumberland Post No. 1, here, and Midland Post No. 169.

Lonnie Marsh, vice commander for Mt. District said last night that a couple of other resolutions important to Legionnaires are to be considered and he urges every post in Garrett and Allegany counties to have representatives present.

Road Laborer Job Now Open

A job opening as laborer for the Allegany County Roads Department now exists and the County Civil Service Commission plans to hold a competitive test for the job on Monday, May 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria of West Side School.

Applications for the job will be accepted until 4 p. m. Friday May 9, at the office of Mrs. Joan S. Burke, commission secretary, on the second floor of the Court House where applications are available. County To Get Liquor Revenue

Allegany County will get a check for $12,936 from the State Comptroller's Office today as its share of first quarter sales of distilled spirits.

The office yesterday mailed checks totaling $430,662 to Baltimore City and the 22 counties.

The checks represent distribution of liquor revenue for January, February and March by the Alcoholic Beverage Division. Everyone got a cut except Garrett County, where sale of distilled spirits is not licensed.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said the statewide total was a drop of 6½ per cent, or about $30,000, from the corresponding period of 1957. He said unemployment and adverse weather brought a drop in business, according to reports from retailers.

Maryland's political subdivisions are allocated 50 cents for each gallon of liquor delivered.

Labor Measures Defeated

Defense Bill's Rewrite Seen

McElroy Willing To Rewrite Bill Although Sticking To Objectives

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise rewrite appeared in store Friday for President Eisenhower's bill to reorganize the country's defenses.

Secretary of Defense McElroy told critics of the plan he was willing to search for language affording a common ground, though he stuck to the administration's objectives.

Tito Leaders Extend Peace Terms To USSR

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—Two Yugoslav Communist leaders Friday made peace overtures to the Soviet Union but stood firm on President Tito's terms for an understanding with the Kremlin.

The tone of the Yugoslav Communist Party Congress was moderated as Tito's Foreign Minister Koca Popovic and veteran Communist Nikola Kovacevic extended an olive branch in the worst Soviet-Yugoslav party crisis in four years.

Popovic called on Moscow to draw experience from the "present phase of disagreeing," saying such a course would stimulate more cooperation between Communist countries.

Kovacevic said the "conflict with the Russian comrades in essence is a very good thing" because it brought differences into the open.

However, if the Yugoslavs were in a conciliatory mood, they were not in a compromising mood. Neither Popovic, Kovacevic, nor others who took the floor retreated from the basic position laid down by Tito and two of his vice presidents in the first three days of the conference.

This is an insistence on pursuing Yugoslavia's own road to socialism, holding aloof from both East and West blocs and having full freedom to criticize Soviet communism in public.

They based their peace overture to Moscow on Soviet recognition of these demands.

Some sources suggested the Yugoslav Reds, in apparently putting a brake on the bitter anti-Soviet speeches of the first three days, had received an indication the Kremlin wanted to halt the plunge in Russian-Yugoslav party relations.

Russian sources said they understood the Soviets and other Soviet-line parties had sent greetings to the Yugoslav congress. There was no confirmation from Yugoslav sources.

Five Children Perish In Fire

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Five small children perished Friday and their mother was burned critically in a fire which destroyed their six-room frame home in a matter of minutes.

The fire started while the family of Paul Washington slept. Washington, a laborer, had left home for work shortly before.

The dead, all Negroes, were Paul, 8; Ann, 7; Faye, 5; Lois, 3; and Jane, 9 months.

Soviet Rocket Bases?

OSLO (AP)—Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange said Thursday night Norway has received information that the Russians have built rocket-launching platforms in the proposed atom-free zone in Central Europe—in Poland, East Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Church's Burial Ground May Become Parking Lot

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The Old First Presbyterian Church burying ground, where some of this city's earliest settlers lie, may soon be turned into a parking lot.

Trustees of the church announced Thursday that the 120,000 square foot graveyard in the heart of the business district will be converted to "parking or appropriate mercantile use."

Wesley E. Howell, president of the church board, said the plan is to convert the property "into an area that can better serve modern Newark."

The church trustees said the burial ground has not been used for 60 years and is rarely visited by anyone. The names of many old Newark families appear on the headstones.

The trustees' plan calls for disinterment of the remains now in the burial ground and their reinterment in "a nearby and suitable cemetery."

This would require a special act of the State Legislature and would be the second time that the remains had been moved from one graveyard to another.

They were first moved at the turn of the century, when the original graveyard was abandoned.

Run For Their Lives

Firemen and Coast Guardsmen sprint for safety yesterday as a fuel storage tank explodes at the Esso Standard Oil Company terminal at Newport News, Va. The blaze finally was brought under control after 40 hours in which 14 of 21 huge 20,000 barrel tanks were destroyed. Damage estimates run officially to $4,000,000. (AP Photofax)

Pravda Scorns U.S. Invitation To H-Bomb Test

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda ridiculed Friday a U. S. invitation asking foreign scientists to observe this summer's series of nuclear tests.

The Communist party paper said the United States seems to regard the tests as "some form of entertainment."

"So far the U. S. government has not invited anyone to the opening of an American atomic power station or to the launching of an atomic icebreaker," Pravda added.

The Russians recently launched an atomic icebreaker, but no Western observers were invited.

However, the Soviet Union's atomic power station near Moscow is a showplace for visiting foreign delegations.

Pravda said the United States dropped the first atomic bomb, has conducted more nuclear tests than any other country, and now should follow the "noble example" of the Soviet Union and abandon further tests.

The United States recently invited members of the U. N. Committee on Radiation to attend nuclear tests in the Pacific.

The Russians were invited as members of that group.

Hoover Begins Working A Little

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, recovering rapidly following an operation for removal of his gall bladder, started working a little Friday.

The Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center issued this bulletin on the 83-year-old patient who underwent surgery last Saturday.

"Mr. Hoover again had a good night. He is now on a soft, selective diet and gaining strength. He is getting up for longer periods and had started to work a little, doing some writing. Antibiotics have been decreased and no other medication is required. His temperature this morning was normal pulse 72. Mr. Hoover's doctors expressed themselves as 'completely satisfied with his steady progress toward recovery.'"

Navy To Launch 4th Super Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Friday its fourth super-sized aircraft carrier, the Independence, will be launched June 6 at the New York Naval Shipyard.

Mrs. Thomas S. Gates Jr., wife of the secretary of the Navy, will christen the 60,000-ton warship.

The next in the series will be the first designed specifically to put a satellite in orbit rather than merely to test the launching rocket.

Alcorn Criticizes Demos 'Conspiracy'

CLARKSBURG (AP)—Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn accused Democrats Friday night of "a coldly calculated conspiracy to make the jobless worker a pawn in the game of politics."

"The Democrats are apparently convinced that their best hope of success lies in making political capital out of a recession. And it is becoming more evident by the day that they are more concerned with generating political propaganda than jobs," Alcorn said.

Alcorn's speech was prepared for delivery at a banquet of the West Virginia Republican Spring Conference.

He took note of former President Harry S. Truman's call for a tax cut in recent testimony before the House Banking and Currency Committee.

"Just how a tax cut would benefit the worker without a job Mr. Truman did not say. Furthermore, the kind of tax changes he has consistently advocated would discourage business enterprise and thus contribute further to unemployment," Alcorn said.

"Mr. Truman's failure to offer anything in the way of constructive action has been duplicated by many other top Democrats, including Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas."

Alcorn continued that Johnson, spelling out his program in a speech to newspaper editors in Washington last week, got no closer to specific economic proposals than "when he said that we must concern ourselves with 'invigorating' the growth of our economy 'to the ultimate of our capacities.'"

"A jobless worker would be hard put to find even as much as a crumb among the senator's ringing platitudes," Alcorn said.

Democratic leaders "have been sitting on most of the president's anti-recession proposals for weeks and even months," Alcorn said.

"They shed anguished tears for the jobless but they refuse to enact the programs that would make jobs," Alcorn asserted.

The Eisenhower administration, Alcorn continued, "is moving aggressively and resolutely" to get unemployed workers back to their jobs. He said the administration "has taken a host of specific actions designed to spur the general economy, including construction speedups, accelerated government contract placements, easier credit and lower down payments on homes . . ."

"Most important of all — from the standpoint of the jobless worker — is the recommendation made one month ago by the president that Congress authorize continued unemployment compensation payments to workers who have already exhausted their benefits."

"Unemployed wage earners need this assistance now. But the Democrat insist upon playing politics even with this problem which touches so closely to human need and want."

PACK OF DOGS SLAUGHTERS 158 PENNED-UP LAMBS

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A pack of 7 dogs slaughtered 158 spring lambs Thursday in a pen in north Fort Worth.

The lambs were part of a 289-animal shipment en route from south Texas to Illinois. They were put in the pen overnight for feed and water.

The seven dogs, apparently from residences in the neighborhood, jumped the fence. Some lambs were bitten to death while some suffocated and died of exhaustion.

The dogs were chased away by workmen.

Non-Sticky Lollipop

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—In the near future mom won't be troubled with sticky furniture or sticky children. William Duck, a research chemist at Franklin and Marshall College, reports the latest development in the candy industry—a lollipop that isn't sticky.

The Naval Research Laboratory has announced there will be about one Vanguard launching a month for the next few months.

The next in the series will be the first designed specifically to put a satellite in orbit rather than merely to test the launching rocket.

Britain Set To Continue H-Bomb Tests

M'millan Denounces Labor Party For Its Opposition To Plan

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan said Friday Britain will continue nuclear tests "unless and until international agreements make them unnecessary."

He stated the Conservative government's policy as the Foreign Office and Admiralty served notice the British are ready to begin their third round of H-bomb tests.

Shipping was warned to stay out of a 38,000-square-mile area around Christmas Island in the south Pacific.

Macmillan told a rally of the Primrose League, a Conservative party organization, Britain is developing the bombs as a deterrent and if they ever have to be used the policy will have failed.

Nothing Gained

"But there is nothing to be gained by being half-hearted about the deterrent policy . . .," he said. "Peace has been preserved so far not because the West has disarmed but because the present balance (of power) is roughly equal."

Macmillan denounced the Labor party for opposing continued H-bomb tests. The campaign against finishing the latest series of tests is opportunism rather than statesmanship, he added.

Scientists have learned a great deal in earlier nuclear tests, he said, but not enough.

"Without further knowledge, we cannot be sure that the theoretical calculations of our scientists are right on certain specific problems," he said. "The solution of these is essential for our future weapons program as the means of delivery changes from the bomber to the rocket."

Warning Flashed

The government's warning that further tests are imminent in the Christmas Island area was flashed around the world by radio. Copies were sent to foreign embassies in London.

A Ministry of Supply spokesman noted that the area designated for the tests is smaller than on previous occasions but said that does not mean the weapons to be exploded are less powerful. He suggested that experience has provided a better idea of how far the danger area extends. An area of 64,000 square miles was marked off for the tests last May, and 63,000 square miles were designated last November.

The News Chronicle said the series will be the biggest H-bomb testing program ever conducted in the Pacific. As many as three H-bombs will be tested, the newspaper said, one of which will be the warhead for the 2,500-mile missile Britain is developing.

Plane Stolen In U.S. Seized

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—A Nicaraguan transport plane stolen in Miami, Fla., was seized by the Honduran army Friday as it prepared to take off with a cargo of arms and ammunition.

Authorities announced that Col. Manuel Gomez, Mauricio Castellon Alonso, and a group of Nicaraguan rebels had been seized along with the plane, a twin-engine C46.

President Ramon Villeda Morales said the arms were destined for Nicaraguan rebels opposed to Nicaragua's President Luis Somoza.

The plane was seized at Los Horcones near the Nicaraguan border. It had landed at a military field there and taken on the cargo of arms. Its engines were warming up for a takeoff.

The plane, valued at from $80,000 to $100,000, belonged to the Nicaraguan airline Lanica. Lanica's traffic manager in Miami, Elias Giro, said the plane was missing when the crew reported early Friday. It was loaded with a $15,000 cargo.

Two years later a modified version became the United States' first two-stage rocket vehicle when it climbed more than 250 miles after a piggy-back ride on a German V2 rocket.

Missile Is Sent To Smithsonian

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The needle-nosed missile that helped pioneer the United States satellite program is off to the Smithsonian museum in Washington this week.

In 1945 the 300-pound Wac Corporal, then top secret, zoomed to its first altitude record — 43.5 miles in vertical flight.

Two years later a modified version became the United States' first two-stage rocket vehicle when it climbed more than 250 miles after a piggy-back ride on a German V2 rocket.

Clerks Took Part

SINGAPORE (AP)—The Indonesian rebel raid Friday night charged that seven Czechoslovaks listed in Jakarta as clerks actually took part as pilots in Indonesian government air attacks on Padang and Bukittinggi April 17.

Woman Has Baby In Tiny Foreign Auto

DETROIT (AP)—Hugh Brotherton, 25, and his wife Carol, 24, agree the tiny foreign made Isotta automobile is fine for driving. They also agree it's "definitely no place to have a baby."

The couple were going home Thursday from the doctor's office when Mrs. Brotherton sensed the symptoms. Her husband stopped the miniature two-seater and called the Fire Department.

Fire Chief Harry Martin and two assistants arrived.

"Why, how can anyone have a baby in that thing?" the chief asked.

Well, Mrs. Brotherton did. She and the baby girl are reported doing fine at a local hospital.

Bonn, Soviet Trade Pact Is Agreed Upon

BONN, Germany (AP)—Soviet and West German leaders clasped hands Friday over their first pact with each other. The Red flag waved over Bonn but visiting Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan was told bluntly the Germans fear the Soviet giant.

Cordiality was tempered by caution from the time Mikoyan arrived for the first visit by a top Soviet leader since the Bonn republic was established in 1949.

The four agreements, drawn up during nine months of negotiations in Moscow, call for an exchange of 375 million dollars worth of goods over the next three years and for establishment of consular offices in Bonn and Moscow.

Mikoyan expressed hope the accords would lead to further agreements, and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano made a formal statement praising the improvement in Soviet-West German relations.

But the formal restraint of the ceremonies was abandoned at a subsequent diplomatic reception when Mikoyan encountered Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss. Mikoyan, a swarthy Armenian noted for his wit, rose when Strauss, a big red-faced Bavarian, strode in and a crowd gathered around them.

After shaking hands, Strauss declared: "We are not building up our army for aggressive purposes. It's because we are afraid of you."

"Afraid of us?" Mikoyan said with a grin. "You have nothing to fear—our purposes are purely peaceful."

"Ah," said Strauss, "but we are a pygmy. And pygmies are afraid of giants."

"But this giant," Mikoyan shot back, "doesn't want to hurt anybody."

Neither Strauss nor Mikoyan stopped smiling during the 15-minute exchange, but it was apparent both were deadly earnest.

Under the trade pacts West Germany will send machinery to the Russians and will receive raw materials, crude oil and oil products.

Soviets Deny Bases In Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP) Nikolai Patolichev, first deputy Soviet minister denied Friday night that Russia has built rocket bases in Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany.

"This is a lie," he told correspondents at a Soviet Embassy reception. He said the Soviet government stands by the Polish plan for a non-atomic zone in these areas.

Grinning Finn Returned For His Day In Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A grinning, one-armed 52-year-old Finn—the ex-Communist whose deportation case has stirred up a tempest in the Immigration Department—was flown back Friday from Helsinki by the U. S. government to have his full day in the courts of democracy.

Already the courts were in action while William Heikkila was telling newsmen he had no apologies for what he did while a member of the Communist party in Minnesota during the depression 30s.

Shortly after he stepped out of an airliner at the same airport from which he was whisked one week ago, a federal judge ordered the San Francisco immigration director and his assistant to show cause why they should not be held in civil contempt.

Judge Edward P. Murphy told the director, Bruce Barber, and the assistant, Stanley Olson, to appear in court May 2.

He denounced as "repulsive and abhorrent" the way Heikkila, a draftsman, was deported without being allowed to contact his wife or his lawyer. But Murphy made it clear he was by no means sure Barber and Olson were in contempt "because of an error of judgment."

Then the judge added: "The wheels of justice, I believe, eventually will catch up with Heikkila."

The stocky Heikkila, after warmly embracing his pretty wife, Phyllis, whom he last saw when he left home a week ago, told newsmen he had no intention of ever rejoining the Communist party he quit in 1939. And he said he wanted to become a U. S. citizen.

But he avoided questions as to whether he now would denounce the Communist party.

Senate Votes Down 2 Moves By Knowland

Solon Has More Amendments To Pension Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—In one-two order, the Senate Friday night knocked over the first "labor bill of rights" amendments sponsored by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.).

Knowland, the Republican floor leader, had a batch of other amendments to an employee pension-welfare bill on tap.

The reaction to his first two indicated the Senate was in no mood to act now on any broad program of labor legislation.

It defeated his first amendment, calling for secret ballot elections of union officers, by a roll call vote of 53-37.

His second amendment was voted down 53-35.

Protects Members

This was designed to protect members of local unions against the establishment by national or international labor organizations of long term trusteeships over the local's affairs.

Ten Republicans voted with 43 Democrats in defeating Knowland's first proposal, which was designed to require secret ballot elections of union officers and to limit their terms to a maximum of four years.

One Democrat, Sen. Lausche of Ohio, voted with Knowland and 35 other Republicans on the first test. The second roll call vote was nearly identical to the first with Lausche and 34 Republicans losing to 42 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

Sen. Revercomb (R-W.Va.) switched from aye on the first Knowland amendment to nay on the second. Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) missed the second roll call.

Knowland offered his proposals as amendments to a bill to regulate pension-welfare plans. Calling his amendments a bill of rights for labor, he said now is the time for action. Later in the session, he said, the Senate will be too busy with other matters to consider labor legislation.

Leads Opposition

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, led opposition to broadening the pension-welfare bill into a general labor measure. He and Democratic leaders of the Labor Committee assured the Senate that general labor legislation would get a hearing.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) denounced the labor committee as stacked and said the Senate could not expect it would draft a bill that would do the kind of job needed.

In the debate on Knowland's first amendment Jenner said: "You might as well fight it out now, because you're never going to get anywhere with this Fancy Dan footwork."

In similar vein, Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) said "this may be the one and only opportunity to do something for the rank and file workers of the country."

Sen. McClelland (D-Ark.) threw his weight against immediate action on any broadscale labor program.

McClelland said his Labor Rackets Investigating Committee has gathered frightening evidence that new legislation is needed, but he called for public hearings first so "it can't be said we gave somebody a raw deal."

Knowland told the Senate that "this Congress will default its public duty if the session ends without legislation to insure union democracy."

The first of the amendments he called up for a vote would require (Continued on Page 2)

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.

But painted it was!

That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!

But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable...

You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Woman Slays Husband In Station Wagon

LANDOVER HILLS, Md. — Charles Anthony Forame, 38, was shot to death by his wife Friday as the couple sat in a station wagon outside their home, Prince Georges County police reported.

Police said Mrs. Forame, 33, will be charged with murder. They quoted her as saying her husband had forsaken her and their three young children.

Frank Carey III, 14, said he was walking past the house on his way to school about 9 a. m. and heard a woman shout, "I don't care, I hate you."

Two shots were fired, he said. Mrs. Forame then walked toward him from the station wagon carrying a gun in her hand, he said.

"She told me I had better tell Miss Nellie to call police," said Frank.

He ran to the nearby home of Mrs. Nellie Bell to relay the message.

Detective Sgt. J. P. Kearns said Mrs. Forame blamed the shooting on domestic troubles. He said she gave the following account of the shooting and events leading up to it.

About a week ago, Forame left home. Mrs. Forame Friday morning had a friend drive her to Forame's awning shop in Capitol Heights.

The couple argued, and Forame drove his wife home. The argument was still going on when they reached home. Mrs. Forame asked her husband to take the household bills off her hands, and went in the house pretending to get the bills.

Instead of getting the bills, she picked up a .32 caliber revolver, put it in her purse and returned to the station wagon. The couple talked some more, and then Mrs. Forame fired.

Bomarc Shoot Is Postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Technical troubles Friday prompted the Air Force to postpone a scheduled launching of the Bomarc ground-to-air missile, the key weapon in the U. S. air defense arsenal.

Officials said the shoot was "scrubbed" at 12:53 p. m. EST because of an undetermined malfunction in the launching equipment.

It was understood the flight plan for the launching called for the longest shot of a Bomarc to date. That meant the missile was aimed at a pilotless B17 drone bomber target more than 250 miles out on the south Atlantic range.

The launching was scheduled for 9 a. m. After numerous delays the countdown reached the three-minute mark once and then zero. Smoke fumes erupted from the base, but the missile's rocket booster was cut seconds later.

This is the same Bomarc the Boeing Airplane Co. has in mass production. It is the closest this country has come to an antimissile missile.

Previous launchings have been highly successful, the Air Force said.

Reddick Convicted In Forgery Case

BALTIMORE — Dr. Robert H. Reddick, in trouble with the law for two years, was convicted today of counterfeiting and forging a medical certificate and false use of a public seal.

A jury of six men and six women returned its guilty verdict after deliberating 50 minutes. It ended a 4½-day trial of the rotund, 43-year-old onetime medical examining official.

Judge Anselm Sodaro withheld sentence pending a possible move for a new trial. Bail was doubled from $5,000 to $10,000.

The guilty verdict carries a penalty of up to 10 years imprisonment.

How They Voted On Welfare Bill

WASHINGTON — Here is how the senators voted Friday in defeating by a 53-37 roll call vote an amendment to an employee pension and welfare bill to require the election of union officers by secret ballot.

BALTIMORE — A man identified by police as Easton P. Bagan, about 70, of Winchester, Va., died unexpectedly Friday in a downtown hotel.

Girl Loses Eye In Argument With Schoolboy

WASHINGTON — A boy was charged with assault Friday as the result of a fight at Stuart Junior High School in which a girl had her left eye so severely injured that it had to be removed.

The girl, Viola Holloway, 14, was rushed to Episcopal Eye, Ear & Throat Hospital after the incident, which occurred at about 1:30 p. m. Thursday. She was operated on at 6 p. m.

According to Juvenile Squad detectives, the boy, 15, was walking toward a pencil sharpener when he fell over the girl's foot. He slapped her, there was an argument, and the girl fought back. The boy then struck the girl in the eye with his fist. The detectives said the boy denied having a pencil in his hand at the time.

Both students are in a special seventh-grade class.

State Mother Of Year Scoffs At Her Praises

ANNAPOLIS — Mrs. Grace Martin Hopkins thinks all the people talking about her "will never get to heaven after such exaggerations."

That's her reaction to the praise being heaped on her after selection as Maryland's "Mother of the Year."

The 70-year-old Laurel widow, mother of 4 and grandmother of 13, received her certificate from the American Mothers Committee Inc. Friday.

Gov. McKeldin made the presentation and included a citation and certificate of achievement from the State. He also gave her a cross made of wood from the Wye oak and a box of candy donated by the National Confectioners Assn.

Mrs. Hopkins' selection was unanimous, according to Mrs. Lucy V. Barnsley of Rockville, Maryland Mother of 1957 who headed the 1958 selection committee of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Hopkins, widow of a civil engineer who died in 1952, said she didn't believe she had a chance in a million of even being considered when her daughter nominated her for the honor.

The daughter, Mrs. William Anacker of Pikesville, was one of three children and three grandchildren who saw her honored Friday.

Mrs. Hopkins' youngest son, Thomas, is a lieutenant in the Navy and was unable to attend the ceremonies. But he hopes to join his mother in New York during the week of May 5 when the American Mother of the year will be chosen.

Mrs. Hopkins' other children are Dr. Joseph Martin Hopkins, minister and professor at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., and Mrs. Laurence Cooper of Newtown Square, Pa.

Negro Files Suit To Crack Va. Laws

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — A Washington Negro has filed a suit in U. S. District Court here to crack Virginia laws and customs of racial segregation in public eating places.

Charles E. Williams filed the suit against Howard Johnson's restaurant on Washington street, contending that it refused to serve him on April 20 because of his race.

The suit asks $500 damages each from the restaurant, the manager and a waitress.

Two Local Marines With Sixth Fleet

Two local Marines are serving with the Marine Corps' North-eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean Battalion of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

They are Cpl. Lloyd E. Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Ritchie of 29 Offutt Street, and Cpl. James S. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Wright, RFD 5, Fairgo.

Wilbur George, of 711 Shawnee Avenue, parts manager for Spoerl's Garage, has been named the outstanding parts and accessories man of 1957 among Pontiac dealerships in the Pittsburgh zone.

Mr. George, who has won the award four times in 12 years, competed with 26 other managers in the Pittsburgh zone.

F. Patrick Allender, president, and William Mickey, delegate from Carpenters Local 1024, attended a meeting of the Maryland State Council of Carpenters in Baltimore last night.

Examiner Board Given Assist By M'Keldin

ANNAPOLIS — The State Board of Examiners of Psychologists is back in existence, with an assist from Gov. McKeldin.

The board, which was created by legislative action last month, but State legal authorities ruled the members out of office earlier this month because a Senate committee failed to act on their appointment by the governor.

McKeldin Friday renamed the five former board members, subject to the approval of the Senate. They will serve at least until the next session of the Legislature.

The five psychologists reappointed are Dr. Stanley D. Imber, Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Norris Roseman, Veterans Administration Mental Hygiene Clinic, Baltimore; Dr. Sherman Ross, University of Maryland; Dr. Jerry W. Carter, Community Services Branch, National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda; and Dr. Robert S. Waldrop, chief of vocational counseling, Veterans Administration, Washington.

As required by the 1957 law which set up the board, the five doctors were appointed by the governor from nominees submitted by the Maryland Psychological Assn. Inc.

Representatives of the attorney general's office told the governor earlier that the only way to straighten out the confused situation was to obtain a new list of nominees from the association and make new appointments.

The attorney general's opinion held that the terms of the board appointed by the governor last year ended with the adjournment of the Legislature in early March.

This ruling confirmed an informal opinion given members of the Senate Nominations Committee before they adjourned without approving the appointments.

The board was created by the 1957 Legislature to certify psychologists and McKeldin made recess appointments last July.

Difficulties arose at the 1958 Legislature when some senators made it clear they felt the board had been too restrictive in its failure to certify some applicants. Other senators were displeased with the attitude of a board member before a Senate committee.

Russians Give Bowl To Ike

WASHINGTON — A group of Russian veterans who linked up with Americans in World War II presented a red and gold wooden friendship bowl for President Eisenhower Friday.

Col. Robert Schulz, military aide to Eisenhower, accepted the gift and said Eisenhower regretted he could not receive it in person because of his schedule.

Boris Nikolaevich Kampov, Polevoy, headed the group and made the presentation, expressing best wishes for Eisenhower's health. Interpreting for him was Eugene Zaostrovsev, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy.

Four other Soviet veterans of the Elbe River meeting were in the group. They are in this country for a reunion with American veterans of the same battle.

List Of Spelling Words Was Wrong

BALTIMORE — Somebody goofed at the spelling bee—and it wasn't only the losing contestants.

Part way through the Sunpapers contest it was discovered the word list being used contained at least four misspelled words.

Young Stephen Nichols spelled "Ophthalmologist" correctly but was called down on the basis of the incorrect list. It showed the word began "ophth—" etc. When the error was discovered Stephen was reinstated and went on to win the Baltimore County title.

Recession Caused Man To Open Stills

BALTIMORE — A man who said he started up two whisky stills because of the recession drew a jail term and fine Friday.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen sentenced Thomas Smith Evans Jr., 37-year-old father of two, of near Fruitland, to six months and fined him $500.

Evans told the court "things are pretty tight down our way" and he had tried to raise money to open a sea food business.

He pleaded guilty to possession of two 15-gallon stills.

30-Day Term, Fine Affirmed

Jacob E. Pryor, Polish Mountain, who was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 and costs March 14 by Magistrate Morris Baron, had judgement affirmed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court in one of three criminal appeals heard by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

A bench warrant was to have been issued for the appellant who failed to appear in court at the specified time but before the warrant was issued the defendant showed up.

The case against Howard Abbott Bittner, city, charged with violation of parole imposed in Juvenile Court by Magistrate Fred H. Anderson, was dismissed by the state. This action came after Bittner's wife said she was satisfied with the support her husband is now providing. The couple has seven children.

Melvin Wilson, 53, who was appealing a four-month jail term on a charge of vagrancy, the court found him guilty but suspended sentence on condition he leave the city. Wilson said he would go to California. He had served a month in jail.

Clarence J. Northcraft, city, charged with assaulting his wife and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Magistrate Morris Baron, was found not guilty.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, presented the state's cases.

Legion District Meets Sunday

Mountain District American Legion will meet at the Lonaconing American Legion post home Sunday at 2:15 p. m. DST, to determine the future of Junior Legion baseball in the county. Only two posts supported and sponsored teams last year. They are Fort Cumberland Post No. 1, here, and Midland Post No. 169.

Lonnie Marsh, vice commander for Mt. District said last night that a couple of other resolutions important to Legionnaires are to be considered and he urges every post in Garrett and Allegany counties to have representatives present.

Road Laborer Job Now Open

A job opening as laborer for the Allegany County Roads Department now exists and the County Civil Service Commission plans to hold a competitive test for the job on Monday, May 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria of West Side School.

Applications for the job will be accepted until 4 p. m. Friday May 9, at the office of Mrs. Joan S. Burke, commission secretary, on the second floor of the Court House where applications are available. County To Get Liquor Revenue

Allegany County will get a check for $12,936 from the State Comptroller's Office today as its share of first quarter sales of distilled spirits.

The office yesterday mailed checks totaling $430,662 to Baltimore City and the 22 counties.

The checks represent distribution of liquor revenue for January, February and March by the Alcoholic Beverage Division. Everyone got a cut except Garrett County, where sale of distilled spirits is not licensed.

Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said the statewide total was a drop of 6½ per cent, or about $30,000, from the corresponding period of 1957. He said unemployment and adverse weather brought a drop in business, according to reports from retailers.

Maryland's political subdivisions are allocated 50 cents for each gallon of liquor delivered.

Frostburg GOP Women To Attend Conference

Seven members of the Women's Republican Club of Frostburg will attend the Sixth Election District conference of the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland, being held April 30 in the Congressional Country Club, Montgomery county. Designed to bring a part of the activity of the state federation closer to district members, five district conferences were planned this year, instead of the usual one spring rally.

Mrs. Osborne P. Beall, Stevenson, will preside at the business session, which will start at 11 a. m., followed by a luncheon at 12.45. District chairmen and vice chairmen will be elected at this conference.

Attending from Frostburg will be Mrs. Noel S. Cook, treasurer of the Maryland Federation; Mrs. James Shryock, president of the Frostburg club; Mrs. Charles Meehan, Mrs. E. B. Van Fossen, Mrs. Ralph M. Race, Mrs. Robert Hohing and Miss Katherine W. Close.

Governor and Mrs. Theodore R. McKeldin are expected to attend; also Senator and Mrs. John Marshall Butler and Senator and Mrs. J. Glenn Beall; gubernatorial candidate Congressman and Mrs. James P. S. Devereaux and Sixth District Congressman and Mrs. Dewitt S. Hyde. Miss Bertha Adkins, Maryland National committeewoman and assistant chairman of the National Republican Committee, will be there along with Mrs. Vaughn E. Richardson, vice chairman of the State Central Committee and recent past president of the Maryland Federation of Republican Women; D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman, Representative State Central Committee; Candidate-for-attorney-general Robert A. Wallace, and for comptroller John A. Derr.

Mrs. Henrietta Sinn, Hagers town, chairman of the Sixth District, will be chairman of the conference and Mrs. J. R. (Pat) Gorman, Bethesda, vice chairman. Reservations should be made through the local club president and sent to Mrs. Fredrick Brown, Rockville by to night.

Bedford Road firemen will hold the last weekly dance before the summer recess, tonight at the fire hall, from 9 until 12.

St. Mary's Alumni will hold its communion breakfast following the 9 o'clock mass tomorrow.

Work For 4-H Clubs Are Given

Plans for a work meeting were discussed and a 4-H program presented at the meeting of the Flintstone Homemakers Club, held at the Methodist church. The Lord's Prayer was said in unison, followed by the Home-makers Creed, read by Mrs. Franklin Norris. The hymn, "The Strife Is O'er the Battle Done," was sung by the group and its history given by Miss Pearl Wilson. Mrs. William Heavner played the piano.

Roll call was answered by naming contributions to the 4-H program in the community. They included Mrs. Chester Robinette serving as leader for the past 27 years; Mrs. Nola Smith leader for 10 years and still active; Mrs. Howard Robinette, for five years. Mrs. G. Yonker Schaffer was a charter member of the Flintstone 4-H Club; Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. Kenneth McLaughlin, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Heavner and Mrs. William Mauzy, former members.

4-H Girls, under the direction of Mrs. Robinette, presented the program. Jeanne Robinette explained the purpose of 4-H clubs; Betty Jo Hamons told of the projects; Ruth Elaine Oster and Kippy Shaffer demonstrated making unbaked chocolate cookies; Jeanne and Betty Jo, packing a balanced lunch, using the seven basic foods.

Mrs. Mauzy presided at the business session. Routine reports were given by Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Arthur Howard. Mrs. Paul Oster, Sunshine chairman, reported Mrs. Elsie Roland remains ill. Mrs. Guy Thompson exhibited a fiber glass lamp shade made at the training meeting. Plans were discussed for a work meeting later. The quotation of the month was read by Mrs. H. K. Chaney and the meeting closed with the group singing, "April Showers."

A round robin letter was written to Miss Maude A. Bean, former home demonstration agent, during the recreational period. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. Homer Hout and Mrs. R. T. Gilson. Other 4-H guest present were Dawn Mauzy and Linda Kinton. Other members attending were Mrs. Russell Dolly, Mrs. Eugene Kinton, Mrs. Aubrey Mauzy, Mrs. Curtis Nash, Mrs. Carolyn Nixon, Mrs. B. C. Mrs. Bernstein Named State AAUW Chairman

Mrs. Milton Bernstein of the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, was appointed Status of Women, chairman at the state convention Meade. Mrs. Bernstein holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a Bachelor of Law from the University of Maryland. She has given talks to the branch on various phases of the law, especially those applicable to women.

Another member of the local branch, Mrs. Aden Everstine, also is a member of the state board, through a previous appointment and is serving on the Fund committee. As chairman of the Resolutions committee, Mrs. Austin D. Twigg reported at the convention. Mrs. John G. Thomas, branch president, attended the presidents' meeting and luncheon and reported on the year's activities.

Highlights of the convention were talks by Eugene Sokulow, instructor at Johns Hopkins; and Mrs. Rockwell R. Stephens, teacher at Woodstock, Vt., Country School.

Mr. Sokulow's subject was "Where Are We Going?" Asking where ought we to go, he suggested to find out by thinking and contemplation. He considers, both lacking at present, and pointed out "it appears we are not doing best, what we can do best, instead we are trying to do best, what our enemy does best." He urged "we follow and improve on our own leads and make a national policy that is truly an American product."

Mrs. Stephens' subject was "Can Science Save Us?" She believes science has a great place in the world, that scientists find out how the universe ticks, but science cannot make the moral code of the world. She went on to say that most people of the world have never had assurance of their tomorrows, still some people think nothing is so important as owning two cars. "If we believe that," she said, "we are in for something. We need right minded teachers, who will teach purpose and leadership and go at it the slow way." The speaker pointed out that it takes time to teach a child to think right, and it is that kind of thinking that makes humanity tick right.

The Second Army All Male Chorus entertained at the banquet, singing in chorus and solo. Several selections were taken from "My Fair Lady."

Other members of Cumberland branch attending were Mrs. William H. Blake, Miss Annie B. Gray and Mrs. Milton Granet, retiring state treasurer.

Cumberland Branch will meet May 14 at the First Federal Savings and Loan building, at which time delegates will report.

District III Presents Program

Cresaptown Neighborhood District III Girl Scouts entertained with a dinner and program at the Cresaptown Methodist Church. Mrs. George J. Miller, president of the Cumberland Council, served as toastmaster. Rev. Carroll L. Warner, OFM, Cap., pastor of St. Ambrose Church, offered the invocation. Rev. Raymond M. Crowe, pastor of the church, gave the benediction.

A pageant entitled, "Around the Year in the Out-of-Doors," featured the program, which included moving pictures of camp, shown by Miss Olive Hurlbert. Troop 48 portrayed the fall activities; Troop 50, winter; Troop 49, spring; Troops 11 and 15, summer; with the finale by 11. Narrators were from Troop 15. Troop 12 was in charge of the scenery. Songs and taps were sung by the group.

Mrs. Frank Leger, District I chairman, was a guest. Mrs. Ralph Phillips, neighborhood leader, was in charge of arrangements.

Fort Hill Beats Beall On Hammond's Home Run, 6-5

Circuit Belt Decides Extra Inning Battle

Campers Nose Out Indians, 3-2; Bruce And LaSalle Win

COUNTY LEAGUE Standing Of The Teams

Team	W	L	Pct.
Fort Hill	4	0	1.000
Allegany	3	0	1.000
Beall	3	1	.750
LaSalle	2	1	.667

Flintstone	1	3	.250
Valley	0	4	.000

Jimmy Hammond clouted a long home run to right field in the top of the eighth inning to break up a pitching duel between Russ Jones and Dave Richards as Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Fort Hill High School defending champions notched their fourth consecutive victory of the season in the Allegany County Interscholastic League over Beall High School yesterday at Frostburg. The score was 6-5.

Despite eleven fielding miscues by the Beall team, Richards gave Jones a great duel all the way before finishing on the short end as a result of Hammond's terrific blast in the extra inning battle.

Jones Wins 3th In Row
The victory was Jones' second of the year and his fifth without a loss over two seasons in league competition. He was the victor over Richards twice last year.

Fort Hill spotted Beall three runs in the first inning, took the lead at 4-3 in the fourth and was in front 5-3 until the bottom of the 7th when Beall rallied for two runs to deadlock the count at five-all.

Each team was credited with six hits and Gene Zumpano of Beall was the only player to obtain two safeties, including a two-bagger.

Richards fanned ten and issued only two passes while Jones struck out six and walked a like number of batsmen.

The loss was the first this season for Beall against two wins and one tie game.

Fort Hill extended its league winning streak to eleven games, having won the last seven games of the 1957 campaign.

Hook Outlines Fleegle
Allegany High's Campers stayed right on the heels of the league leaders by edging Mt. Savage High School at Penn Avenue Field where Bill Hook gained the decision over Wayne Fleegle in a duel between southpaws.

Coach Chet Payne's Campers scored all their runs in the second inning while the Indians counted twice in the fourth.

In notching his second win of the season, Hook limited Mt. Savage to six hits, fanned 10 and issued two passes. Fleegle held the Campers to four blows, one a triple by Gary Shook, whiffed nine and did not give up a base on balls. Fleegle, Leroy Morris and Rich Lybarger smacked two-baggers for Mt. Savage.

In the second inning Bill Brode singled and scored the Campers' first run when Walker got two bases on an outfield error. Shook tripled home the second run and scored later on Bob Stephens' single. A double by Morris, D. Lowery's walk and Lybarger's timely two-base swat produced the Mt. Savage tallies in the fourth.

Eddie Trimble, Mt. Savage right fielder, crashed into the fence in making a great catch of which Powell's drive in the fifth. Powell also turned in a sparkling fielding play in the 4th when he snared Burkett's long drive with his gloved hand.

LaSalle Tops Aggie
LaSalle's Explorers took over third place by defeating Flintstone's Aggies at Flintstone by the score of 4-2, with Johnny Hinds gaining the decision over Wayne Boggs.

All of the scoring in this game was done in the first three innings.

Three of Flintstone's hits were credited to Heavener, third baseman. LaSalle obtained only four safeties, including doubles by Rich Murray and Smith.

Bruce Scores First Win
Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High Bulldogs broke a three game losing streak by downing Valley High School at Barton by the score of 6-1.

Lynn Morris went the route for the Bulldogs and kept the opposition's seven hits well scattered four of which were shared by George Lauder and Ray Miller. Bruce solved the offerings of Lauder and Cliff Groves obtained two hits each for the winners and Lser belted a triple.

Maplehurst Club Will Open Today

The Maplehurst Country Club will open its third season today with Joe Reposky, newly appointed pro, in charge of the golf shop.

The course is reported to be in perfect playing condition.

A total of 180 elm, poplar and maple trees have been planted on the grounds.

Jonathan Jenkins, president of the board of directors, also will serve as chairman of the grounds committee.

A Tee Off dance will be held today at 10 p. m., with music by the Harold Winstanley Trio.

Herman Hickman, Former Yale Grid Coach, Dies

Sports Commentator, Vols' Football Star, Succumbs In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herman Hickman, sports commentator and former football coach at Yale, died Friday.

Hickman, a former grid star at the University of Tennessee entered Providence Hospital March 28 after being stricken with an ulcer attack at La Plata, Md.

He was then en route to Florida with Mrs. Hickman.

Attending physicians said the round, jovial sports commentator underwent an operation last Monday and had been in satisfactory condition until Thursday.

Then he suffered an acute hemorrhage in the esophagus, the tube leading down into the stomach.

Bleeding was controlled, the doctors said, but because of "severe liver and kidney complications" his condition remained critical.

Hickman was 46.

His wife, Helen, and Mother, Mrs. Howard Hickman, were at the bedside with Toots Shor, New York restaurateur, and Dave Driscoll, a business associate.

Hickman, retired from coaching several years ago and had been commenting since then on the sports scene for radio, television and magazines.

Hickman's home was in New Haven, Conn.

DIES—Herman Hickman, 46, sports commentator and former football coach at Yale, died yesterday in Providence Hospital in Washington. He was stricken with an ulcer attack at LaPlata, Md., March 28 and underwent an operation last Monday.

Ramos Scores 13th Victory Over Red Sox

Washington Hurler Tosses Six-Hitter, Whips Boston, 2-0

BOSTON (AP)—Poised Pedro Ramos fattened his winning record against Boston by pitching Washington to a 2-0 victory today while former Red Sox players Albie Pearson and Norm Zauchin furnished the offensive punch.

Ramos, the Cuban right-hander who appears to own the Sox, limited his victims to six hits while extending his lifetime record over Boston to 13-5.

Eddie Yost, who had walked his two earlier trips, opened Washington's decisive fifth inning with a double which hit near the top of the wall in left center.

Then Pearson, the 5-6 outfielder, and massive Zauchin, Senators' first baseman, who were acquired in the off-season trade from the Red Sox, took over.

Zauchin followed by poling a two base blow off the wall in left center which brought Pearson around.

Zauchin, collecting two doubles and a single in four trips, increased his batting average to .429.

Ramos gave three of his hits over the last two innings when he had to bear down to preserve his shutout.

In the eighth, Ted Williams singled, moving Jim Piersall, who also had singled, to third. But Jackie Jensen fouled to catcher Clint Courtney and Frank Malzone hit into a force play that ended the threat.

Championships will be decided in nine weight classes.

There will also be a five-round exhibition bout between Baltimore boxers.

Vincent DePaula, of Baltimore, will be the referee.

Chicago Snaps Losing Streak In 12th Inning

Aparicio's Single Defeats K.C., 6-5

CHICAGO (AP)—The flustered Chicago White Sox snapped a five-game losing streak Friday, whipping the Kansas City Athletics 6-5 in 12 innings after scoring three times in the ninth to send the game into overtime.

Luis Aparicio's single off Walt Craddock, third Kansas City pitcher, sent Jim Rivera home from second with the winning run. Rivera's two-run, two-out single in the ninth brought about the 5-3 deadlock.

The victory, coupled with Boston's 2-0 loss to Washington, hoisted the Sox out of the American League cellar.

Bill Fischer, third Chicago pitcher, was credited with the victory, his first in two decisions. Fischer came on in the ninth inning and handcuffed the A's without allowing a base hit.

Rivera opened the Sox 12th by beating out an infield single. Bubba Phillips sacrificed Rivera to second and Ron Jackson, batting for Fischer, walked. Aparicio then lined his game-winning hit to center.

Kansas City starter Alex Kellner appeared to have his first victory tucked away until the Sox put on their ninth-inning uprising.

With one out in the ninth, Nellie Fox and Jim Landis hit successive singles and Sherm Lollar walked. Virgil Trucks relieved Kellner and walked pinchhitter Earl Torgeson to force in a run. Tito Francona, batting for Al Smith who had grounded into two double plays, struck out but Rivera singled to right, driving in the tying runs.

The A's didn't break into the scoring column until the fourth inning. Sox starter Early Wynn breezed through the first three innings while chalking up six strikeouts before Bill Tuttle opened the fourth with a single off Fox's glove.

Wynn retired the next two men but Bob Cerv lashed a double into left center and Woody Held singled home both runs. The A's picked up two more runs in the sixth when they knocked Wynn out of the box.

Keyser And Moorefield Post 5th Straight Wins

Circleville, Capon Bridge Are Victors

Keyser High School extended its winning streak to five games in the Potomac Valley Conference by defeating Elk Garden High School yesterday at Keyser by the score of 6-3.

Moorefield's defending champions, beaten in the first game of the season, reeled off its fifth consecutive victory at the expense of Romney High School, 10-9.

In other conference battles, the Circleville Indians edged Petersburg High's Vikings, 3-2, and Capon Bridge High School trounced the West Virginia School for the Deaf by the score of 14-3.

Keyser grouped its runs in three in the third and fifth frames to defeat the Elks. Bob Staggs, who started on the rubber for Coach "Tack" Clark's team, hurled 4 1/2 innings and received credit for the victory. Wimer finished for the victors.

Each team collected three hits with Ray Hinkle of Elk Garden pacing the stickers with three blows.

Harry Fitzwater pounded a triple, two doubles and a single for a perfect day at the plate as Moorefield took the Pioneers into camp. The winners were charged with nine field miscues. Cessna and Stickle had two hits each for Romney. The win went to George Sherman, his third of the campaign.

Bill Reynolds, Petersburg hurler had Circleville shut out until the final frame when the Indians staged a three-run uprising to pull the game out of the fire. After Teter walked and Blank singled, Wimer tied the score with a triple and came home later on W. Bennett's "squeeze" bunt.

West Virginia School for the Deaf committed eight errors while going down to their sixth straight conference defeat at the hands of Capon Bridge. Slonaker was the winner and Moon the loser in this contest. Doug Whitacre of Capon Bridge and Adkins, Perry and Trader of the Lions collected two hits each.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pinchitter Gene Woodling's double with two outs in the ninth inning scored two runners and pulled out a 2-1 victory for the Baltimore Orioles over the New York Yankees Friday night.

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted.

But painted it was!

That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel!

But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable...

You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Silver Beaver Awards Made To Area Scouters

The Silver Beaver Award, high-est scouting honor for an adult on a councilwide basis, was presented to three Potomac Council BSA officials, Thursday at the annual appreciation dinner for volunteer workers at the recreation hall of Centre Street Methodist Church.

The coveted award went to Ross O. Decker, this city, council camping and activities chairman; John L. Towler, this city, Namacolin Trail District advancement chairman; and David G. Nuzum, Keyser, Tri-Valley District chairman.

The men were chosen for the recognition by a committee headed by Victor D. Heisey, this city, and the selections were kept secret until the dinner Thursday.

Decker, who is secretary-treasurer of the Light and Decker Company, this city, has been active in Scouting since 1943 when he became a troop commit-tee-man.

He has been a member of the council executive board and chairman of the camping and activities committee since 1949. He was council vice president from 1953 to 1956 and was also active in the campaign for funds to build camp Potomac. Nuzum became interested in scouting in 1948 when he became a troop commit-tee-man. In 1953 he became district chairman of Keyser area troops, and since 1956 has headed Tri-Valley District which includes all troops in the Keyser, Tri-Towns and South Branch sections.

Nuzum has been a council executive board member since 1953. He has been head of the English Department of Potomac State School, Keyser, for 19 years. In 1956 he was chosen as "Keyser's Man of the Year."

Towler, owner of Allegany Hotel Inn, first registered as an adult in scouting as a troop commit-tee-man in 1940 and still is an active member of that commit-tee.

He has been advancement chairman of Cumberland District and its successor, Namacolin Trail District, since 1950.

The awards were presented by Dr. Thomas Bess, Keyser, council president, himself a holder of the Silver Beaver and also the Silver Eagle, highest regional award.

There have been only 24 other awards bestowed in Potomac Council since 1932.

Nearly 200 unit leaders, adult workers and their wives attended the dinner which had Paul W. Handel, scout executive of Central Ohio Council, Columbus, as the main speaker.

Each returning resident of the U.S., whether citizen or not, may bring free of duty merchandise for personal use worth a maximum of $500 under special conditions.

W.Va. Needs 14,188 Beds In Hospitals

State 54 Per Cent Short Of Needs

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia has only about half as many hospital beds as it needs, State Health Director N. H. Dyer reported at a conference Friday that there are only 14,188 beds in the state's hospitals, when the need is for 27,293.

The biggest shortage, according to the 1958 state plan, is in beds for the chronic diseased. There are 814, but this comes to only 20 per cent of the number estimated needed.

Mental hospitals are suffering the second most serious shortage percentage-wise, with 3,750 beds in use and another 6,160 required.

The other shortages of beds in the state are: General hospitals, which have 6,910 beds, 2,262 still needed; nursing homes, with 1,710 beds, need 1,263 more; tuberculosis hospitals, where there are 1,004 beds, should have 1,270 more beds.

Dr. Dyer reported that there is a shortage of diagnostic and treatment centers as well as one of hospital beds. The report showed 100 such centers in the state, compared with the 198 needed according to the state plan for hospitals and medical facilities.

There are seven public health centers in the state. But 23 more are needed. Only one rehabilitation center exists. There should be seven, Dyer's report mentioned.

The average per cent of all needs met in the state for hospitals and medical facilities came to 46.

Rotarians To Donate Blood May 6

LONA CONING — The Lonaconing Rotary Club had Robert Hohing of Frostburg, and David Curran, Baltimore, as guests at their dinner program Thursday evening at the VFW home, Lonaconing.

Garlitz Barclay, chairman of the Scout committee, reported on the trip the Scouts will make to Washington today. Donald Amoruso and Harry Jo Warnick, assistant scoutmasters, will accompany the troop.

Father Leslie E. Schwindt, chairman of the Blood mobile committee, reports that 20 rotarians have signed pledge cards to donate blood on May 6 when the unit visits Lonaconing. Club members will meet at 5:30 p. m. and donate as a group.

Ralph Swauger, appointed chairman of the committee to renovate the Rotary roadside signs at the town limits on Route 26, will have William McElvie, Tim Connor, Charles Daniels and Conrad Hohing as members of his committee.

Attending Rotary District 735 conference on Sunday and Monday at Bedford, Pa., will be Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Miles Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tim Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McPartland, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Sheeley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warnick and Mr. and Mrs. William Orr.

"Citizens of Tomorrow" representatives will be Gerald Llewellyn and James Moffatt, Valley High School seniors, April 27 through April 29. They will leave Sunday afternoon to attend the Rotary conference.

"Rotary Spokes," the official publication of the Rotary Club of Lonaconing, edited by Frederick Bowden was distributed to members at the dinner program. A house-to-house pick up for benefit of Boys Forestry Camp No. 2 is planned. James McElvie is chairman of the program for Thursday, May 1.

Conservation Of Water Conference Held At FSTC

Paul W. McKee, third from left, of the Maryland Water Pollution Control Commission is shown above speaking to a group at Frostburg State Teachers College, following his lecture there this past week before a class in geography. McKee pointed out that water is the most essential single material used by man. It directly sustains all plant and animal life and due to pollution by modern industry it cannot be taken for granted any longer. Without it every man, woman and child in the world would die in about three days, therefore man must give it the respectful treatment it deserves, he explained. Left to right are Alfred Taylor and Don Emerson, instructors, McKee, and Clarence Rice, Carole Miller and William McKenzie, students.

Keyser Moose Installation Is Tonight

KEYSER—Leo Casey, clerk of the US Senate District committee, will be installing officer at installation ceremonies to be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock at the Loyal Order of Moose Home, East Street.

Mr. Casey, a former resident of Keyser, is a member of the Supreme Lodge of Moose, where he holds the office of sergeant-at-arms and is deputy supreme governor at large. He is a past governor of the local lodge, past state secretary of the Moose Association and state director, and is a former US Marshall of the Northern W. Va. District.

Officers to be installed in the formal ceremony are Governor, John Staggars; Past Governor, Boyd Halterman; Junior Governor, John Coleman; Prelate, William Alt; Treasurer, Harry West; Secretary, William F. Miller; Trustees, James Broome, Gladstone Allamong and John Stephens.

In addition to Casey, the Women of the Moose will assist with the installation. Keyser is one of the few lodges in the area that boasts a woman's installing team. The work that these women do, makes one of the most impressive ceremonies of the Moose Order.

All members of the Moose and their friends are welcome to attend the open installation. At conclusion of the ceremony refreshments will be served followed by a dance.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers Learn To Laugh

Too many women are chronic complainers. Some even turn into nagging shrews.

The irony of it is that this may be one of the best times of their lives. Is it a happy period for you? Do you recognize it as such?

The discontented woman doesn't. She is always looking for something she doesn't have or isn't doing at the present. The "grass is greener on the other side" could well be her motto.

Such a woman defeats herself by being pessimistic. She is always finding fault with those around her — her children and husband. She longs for a change. It is only after the good times are past that too many realize that they were actually delightful.

Taking for granted that it requires all the patience and skill a woman possesses to be charming, learn to laugh often. It's very healthy. Pleasant laughter

Kiwanians Get Report On New Creek Projects

Conservation Plan Under Way

KEYSER—At the weekly dinner-meeting of Keyser Kiwanis Club at the Towne House, North Davis Street, Richard (Dick) Fleck, water conservation engineer on the project of impounding water in a conservation and flood control project brought the Kiwanians up to date on progress that has been made. He told the group, that the Keyser area project is farther advanced than any of the other water conservation districts in this part of the state.

The local project has reached the point in some parts of the New Creek area, where he said, that visual showing of the work has developed to the point that farms on which the impounding of water has been undertaken. The water impoundment has brought a picture of beauty in addition to one of necessity, he said.

The purpose of the program is to dam the water in the New Creek water shed so that it may be used in dry seasons while at the same time to protect farm lands from floods.

Several more dams will be built in Mineral county and the full protection against floods will not be complete until another year or two the speaker outlined. Great sums of money have been spent in this area by the federal government and more is to be spent in other areas to provide a fuller flood control program.

Other counties in the area are only beginning the program, as citizens of those counties have seen what has been accomplished in Mineral County, even though the work here is far from completed.

BHS To Crown May Queen

FROSTBURG — The annual May Day program of Beall High School will be held Thursday at 1:25 p. m. in the school auditorium. Miss Rosetta Schurg will be crowned "May Queen" and will be escorted by Eugene Eagan.

Attendants and escorts from the classes are: Jacquin Carpenter, Mary McGowan, Don Wittig and George Allen, seniors; Barbara Chumpey, Julia Willets, Eugene Zupanano and David McFarland, juniors; Glenda Meanyhan, Beverly Strickler, Edgar McFarland and James Airhart, sophomores; Frances Bolt, Janet Fearer, Earl Ward, and John Stevenson, freshmen and Jo Ann Lewis, Cornelia Loar and John Chaney and James McFarland, eighth grade. The crown bearer will be Jackie Armstrong.

Following the procession and crowning, a program will be presented for the queen and her court.

45 W.Va. Counties Must Reorganize Health Boards

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Health Department has recommended that the boards of health in 45 counties be reorganized.

State Health Director N. H. Dyer made public Friday an attorney general's opinion to the effect that some employees of the 45 health boards are being paid illegally.

The opinion said that county courts are not authorized to use tax funds to pay some 100 technicians, clerks and sanitarians working for the present setup of health boards in the 45 counties.

Under a new-type of health board organization, instituted by the Legislature in 1955, the county courts can use tax money to pay these employees. It is this type of health board that Dr. Dyer has recommended for the 45 counties.

The attorney general's opinion was given after the state tax commission objected to the payment of a technician in considering the budget of one of the 45 health boards.

Dr. Dyer said at his news conference that he hoped all the counties involved would affect the reorganization before July 1 to avoid further questions being raised when budgets for the 1958-59 fiscal year are submitted to the tax commission. He explained that a meeting with representatives of the health offices had been held last Monday to give notification of the need for the reorganization.

Dr. Dyer also sent out letters to the presidents of all affected county courts, stating the situation to them.

Under the recommended county health board plan, members would number five, and would serve for staggered five-year terms. They would be appointed by the county court. Not more than three members could belong to the same political party and not more than one could represent the same civil district.

The health officer is appointed for an indefinite term by the county board of health under the reorganization. The same is true of all other employees in the department.

Under the county health board setup now prevailing in the 45 counties, the health officer is hired by the county court and serves ex-officio on the health board. His term runs four years.

The other members of the three-man board also serve ex-officio. They are the prosecuting attorney

C&A Granted Fourth Boost In Gas Rates

PSC Cuts 22 Per Cent From Revenue Plea

BALTIMORE — The Public Service Commission Friday granted permission for the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. of Cumberland to increase its gross income by $362,010.

The company had asked for authority to hike its rates sufficiently to bring in an additional $465,000 and a rate of return of 6.75 per cent on its overall investment.

The PSC said it considered that 6.5 per cent on its investment was a "fair and reasonable rate of return to the company."

C&A distributes gas to 21,000 customers in Cumberland and Western Maryland and in neighboring West Virginia. Today's action affects only Maryland customers.

Asked 22% More

The company said that if it were granted the $465,000 additional revenue it requested, the increase would amount to about an 18-cent a month hike to customers using gas for cooking, water heating and clothes drying. For those using gas for house heating, the increase would amount to about $2.11 a month.

The PSC did not set new rates for the company. It told the C&A only that it was to set rates to bring in not more than $362,010 additional gross revenue.

Since the PSC granted about 78 per cent of the extra revenue asked, the new rates will probably average about 14 cents a month for minimum users and about $1.65 a month more for those who heat their homes with gas.

The company applied for higher rates last Nov. 21. Hearings were begun last Feb. 19 and were concluded on March 21.

Opposing the increase were the mayor and city council of Cumberland, the Allegheny County commissioners and several industrial concerns.

Fourth Since 1952
The commission noted that before 1952 the C&A had not increased its rates in Maryland for nearly 25 years and in that year produced less than a two per cent return. It was granted rate hikes in 1952, 1954 and 1956.

The commission set the company's net original cost rate base at $8,862,442 in determining the additional amount of income the company should receive.

The commission said the increase granted today should provide the C&A with a net operating income of $576,059.

Two Area Men Enlist In Army

Two area men with prior service records enlisted in the Army at the local recruiting station this week, according to M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley.

Richard F. Connelly Jr., 22, of 14 Mill Street, Frostburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Connelly Sr., enlisted for three years in the Army Security Agency. He formerly served in the Army Field Artillery.

Richard T. Combs, 24, of 1055 National Highway, LaVale, husband of JoEllen Combs, re-enlisted for service with the Army Guided Missiles and chose to serve at Fort Banks, Mass. He had two years prior service with an artillery unit.

Under the new missile program, men enlisting are permitted to select the city in which they wish to serve. Sgt. Hartley said.

Area Buses Adopt Daylight Saving Time

Officials of the Osgood Bus Lines, Inc., announced that effective Sunday two round trip runs will be eliminated between Keyser and Cumberland, and the time changed on one bus leaving Keyser for Oakland. The buses will also operate this summer on Daylight Saving Time.

The Keyser to Piedmont run at 6:15 a. m. is being taken off completely. Others being eliminated are the Keyser to Cumberland run at 6:50 a. m. and the Keyser to Cumberland run at 5:45 p. m. Also being taken off are buses leaving Cumberland for Keyser at 7:50 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.

The bus which previously left Keyser for Oakland at 8:50 will now leave at 7:50. All other buses will remain the same.

Cresaptown School Names May Day King And Queen

Dennis Bobo Jr. and Barbara Psimer, ninth grade students of Cresaptown Junior High School, will reign as King and Queen of the May Day Health Festival which will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 1 and 2.

They were selected from a group of 18 finalists of the three ninth grade sections and were chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, personality, personal hygiene and service to the school.

The royal couple will be crowned at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the school auditorium by Miss Myra M. Neffien, principal. Dennis is a

McKaig Gets Citation Of Library Unit

First State Award Goes To Local Man

A member of the board of the Cumberland Free Public Library last night received the first citation to be awarded by the Maryland Library Association.

The citation to W. Wallace McKaig, president of the Cumberland Steel Company, was accepted by Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library as the association opened a two-day convention in Baltimore.

The citation pointed out that Mr. McKaig had been chosen for the first citation to a library trustee in recognition of his outstanding contributions and services to libraries.

Mr. McKaig has been a generous contributor to the local library for over 10 years and has been an active member of its board for the past five years.

The citation was presented by Miss Dorothy W. Reeder, president of the association.

The annual meeting is being attended by representatives of public, college, industrial and school libraries of the state.

Appeals Court Affirms Ruling In Custody Case

The Maryland Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed an Allegheny County Circuit Court decree denying a suit by a former Cumberland man for custody of his 10-year-old daughter who is now living with her maternal grandparents in Cumberland.

James C. Trenton, 31, and his second wife appealed from the decision of former Chief Judge George Henderson, who ruled that Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Christ, the maternal grandparents, should retain custody of the girl, Cynthia, after her mother was killed in an automobile accident last May.

Mr. Trenton, who now lives in Menominee, Mich., was divorced from his first wife, the former Patricia Christ, in 1951, and she was awarded custody of the child by the decree.

The high court found nothing unfair about the Trentons but said it "sees genuine risk to this child's wellbeing in the proposed change . . . because she has had no opportunity to develop real attachment to her father . . ."

Missionary Talks At Women's Meet

Miss Violet Popp, former resident, a missionary on furlough from Jordan last night addressed members of the Western District Baptist Federation during a dinner meeting held at Nave's Dining Room.

She will return to Jordan in the near future to continue her missionary work. Formerly she was employed as a nurse at Memorial Hospital.

The federation is made up of business women of churches in Allegheny and Garrett counties. President of the federation is Miss Orpha Boggs. About 30 persons attended the dinner meeting.

Scouters To Attend Training Institute

About 25 Scouters from Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will attend a Region 3 Training Institute in Indiana, Pa., today.

The area delegates will represent all districts and will attend one of seven courses which will be offered by members of the national staff, according to Willis V. Smith, council executive.

Firemen Get Call

Firemen from South End station checked a fire at 39 Elder Street yesterday morning. They said leaves and vines around a back yard fence had caught fire and the cause was not known. There was no damage.

Clinic Is Planned

The Health Department will hold a pediatric clinic Monday from 9 a. m. to noon in the basement of City Hall.

Club Holds Coin Program

John Dorn, program chairman for the Western Maryland Coin Club, displays coins at a meeting of the Senior Citizens Club here. Looking at the display are Mrs. Lawrence Middlekamp, Clifton E. Fuller and Mrs. Marie Lear. Mr. Dorn was guest speaker for the program, held in connection with the observance of National Coin Week.

81 Allegany High Juniors To Take Scholarship Test

Some 81 members of the Junior Class of Allegany High School are planning to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, according to J. R. Snyder, guidance counselor.

Mr. Snyder announces that the test will be given in the school cafeteria on Tuesday. The test will be scored during the summer and results returned to the school by August 15.

For the first three years of the merit program the test was given during October of the senior year. Many administrators indicated that they would prefer the testing at the end of the junior year so they would have a full academic year in which to help students in light of these scores.

The program has been changed from an aptitude test to a test of educational development. The new three-hour test will provide five sub scores and a composite score.

Paul Ossip, Linda Cover, Fred Eichner, Charles Langham, David Leasure, John Marvin, Robert Roeder, Arthur Williamson, Alice Morris, Barbara Yalder, Jay Kaplan, Robert Burton, Donald McCoy, Jack Means, William King, Raymond Fogle, Robert Coughlin, Sylvan Feldstein, Martha Coulhan, John Tosh, Edward Wendt.

Richard Pave, Clyde Bantz, David Stone, Leland B. Ransom, Vick Reuschlein, Robert Shuman, Louis Shinnamon, Charles Oster, Sandra Jyers, Larry Bales, Bonnie George, Bert Lazarus, Marvin Kroll, Dennis McFarland, David Kerns, Gregory Collins, Bertha Duke.

Petitions for action of the Circuit Court for violations of parole were filed Thursday against James W. Fadley and William Franklin Radcliffe by State Attorney James S. Getty in Allegheny County Circuit Court.

The petitions state that Fadley was on July 3 found guilty of assault and sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. The sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for three years.

Fadley is charged with violation of his parole by breaking and entering the Christopher Photo Lab on Oldtown Road on April 10.

Radcliffe was found guilty of the crime of breaking and entering and sentenced to 10 years in the Maryland Penitentiary on May 20, 1957. The sentence was suspended for 10 years at the time.

He is charged in the petitions with violation of his parole by the theft of tires from Hare's Used Car Lot, 219 South Mechanic Street on April 5, and by entering the Christopher Photo Lab on Oldtown Road on April 10.

The two will be given a hearing Monday at 10 a. m. on the charges following the completion of scheduled appeals.

Board Gets Petitions To Employ Welsh
The Allegheny County Board of Commissioners yesterday received two petitions from county residents requesting that William Welsh, by virtue of a Civil Service examination taken about October 25, 1955, from which he was appointed humane officer to be transferred to county employment in the same manner as other employees of the City Health Department.

The petitions signed by 116 persons pointed out Mr. Welsh was one of the few employees of the City Health Department doing work for the county who had taken the Civil Service test.

Pedestrian Safety Need Stressed By Blind Woman

The important task of educating the pedestrian to his role in modern-day traffic was cited last night in a talk by Mrs. Hellen Tullis, blind Baltimore woman who is chairman of the pedestrian safety campaign of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

Mrs. Tullis, who is on a statewide tour promoting pedestrian safety, spoke to representatives of civic, church, parent-teacher organizations and the City Police Department. She spoke at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

She said she was selected earlier this year to head the safety program after the increased number of traffic deaths during the first few months of 1958. Her appointment was made by Paul E. Burke, chairman of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, who said he felt Mrs. Tullis was well-qualified because of her pedestrian safety training.

Mrs. Tullis said a campaign of education, legislation and enforcement must be carried out in order to bring pedestrian safety up to date.

"The pedestrian has a new responsibility and each person should know this responsibility," Mrs. Tullis said. Everyone should know and obey the traffic rules and a good way to bring this about would be to introduce courses on pedestrian safety at all grade levels in schools, she added.

Pedestrian rules have changed during the past several years and the public must be brought up-to-date on these changes in order to be protected, the safety chairman emphasized.

She called upon all the representatives at last night's meeting to try and acquaint the public on this ever-growing problem in traffic so pedestrian safety can keep abreast in this modern time.

Mrs. Tullis was accompanied on her trip by her leader dog "Pete," and also visited a Cub Scout dinner earlier in the evening.

All But Two Beer Permits Are Issued

Hearings Set For May 6

All but two beer licenses were issued yesterday by the Allegheny County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

Yet to be issued are a Class D beer license to Hugh Kifer, of Main Street, Barton, and Mayme E. Brick, Mayfair Tavern, Winchester Road.

A spokesman for the commissioners said last night the two licenses that have not been issued are new ones and the applicants will be given hearings during a regular meeting on May 6 at the Court House.

Some 273 renewals were issued. Richard Howell, of Barton, who had applied for a renewal of his license, withdrew his application.

Prior to the start of the board's session in court room at the Court House the applicants were addressed by Edward M. Akers, chief investigator of the Alcoholic Beverages Division of the state comptroller's office.

Akers told the licensees that they are engaged in a "hazardous and dangerous" business because of the temptation to minors and also the need for observance of closing hours. He said he realizes it is difficult to ascertain the ages of young women from 17 to 21 years old.

Akers urged the licensees to observe closing hours and other regulations, including those of the state comptroller's office.

Senate Hopefuls Boast Of Vote Getting Appeal

Mahoney Sees Demo Area Chances Good

By The Associated Press

Two Senate candidates, James Bruce and George P. Mahoney, made more boasts Friday night about their vote getting appeal in the counties.

Bruce added Baltimore County to the list of those he is confident of carrying in the May 20 primary.

He declared in a statement: "Ever since this campaign began I've been hearing that no one can defeat George P. Mahoney in Baltimore County. Some of my friends had me almost convinced. "But having taken time out to review the facts, I have concluded that the legend of Mahoney's invincibility in Baltimore County is simply a lot of twaddle and sheer nonsense."

Mahoney, a paving contractor in Baltimore County and like Bruce, a Democrat, wound up a three-day tour of Maryland's two western-most counties. He concluded that Democratic candidates have a better chance of carrying those counties this year than they have had in many years.

Mahoney said in a statement released at his Baltimore headquarters he was amazed at the number of Republicans in Western Maryland who have told him they would vote for him in the general election if he wins the primary.

Meanwhile, these were other political developments:

Clarence D. Long, brought his walk-talk-hand shaking technique to Worcester County on the lower Eastern Shore. The Johns Hopkins University economics professor proposed that a "Bureau of Consumer Protection" should be set up in Washington to look out for the interests of the consumer.

Long, another Democratic Senate candidate, said such an agency is needed especially during a time of economic recession.

J. Millard Tawes, aspirant for governor on the Democrats' "harmony" slate, boosted the proposal for rebuilding a 22-acre area in downtown Baltimore with new office buildings, a hotel and TV theater center.

Man Seeks Remedy For Road Hazard

A Keyser area resident who lives on McMullen Highway Extended has written to the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners seeking a remedy to a hazard which has developed along the road where he resides.

In a letter to the board, Harold Broadwater, of RD 3, Keyser, points out that where he lives it is more of a residential section rather than a highway.

However, he said, "the traffic is becoming hazardous; in fact teen-agers and a few adults are using this road for a speedway."

Realizing State Police are very busy and "can't spend much time on this small road," Mr. Broadwater would like to suggest a sign which may be of some help such as "Slow—Residential Area; Reduce Speed, Children Playing."

Since it is no longer U.S. Route 220, Mr. Broadwater is asking if the speed limit could be posted at 25 miles per hour.

A postscript to the letter said that "if this is not within your jurisdiction, will you be kind enough to help me get some protection for our children by placing this with the proper authorities?"

Stud Services Available To County Farmers

Farmers of Allegheny County can now get stud services of Pond Gate Myster which has been purchased by the Co-Ops, West Virginia Artificial Breeders and Maryland Artificial Breeding Cooperative.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said yesterday the service is available through Harry Miller, technician of the Allegheny Artificial Breeding circuit. He is a supervisor of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of Potomac Valley. His telephone number in Frostburg is 928. Mr. Steger said.

"Myster" is officially classified very good and has earned the Gold Medal Award from the Holstein-Friesian Association. This is the highest honor a bull can win and signifies that the bull has, through his daughters, demonstrated superior production and superior type.

Nuclear Age Solutions Found

Two of the really huge problems confronting mankind in this first stage of the "nuclear era" are these: what to do with the radioactive wastes created by fission and fusion processes; and how to avoid dangerous effects of the "fallout" of Strontium-90 (created when hydrogen bombs are exploded).

News reports now indicate that solutions are being found for both these problems.

The Atomic Energy Commission has found ways to put the "black beasts" of atomic fission to work for mankind's good. By converting the radioactive waste products into tools for use in medicine, industry and research, the AEC has found a profitable way to "dispose" of these dangerous materials.

The tremendously important news came in the form of the AEC announcement that it has cut the price of five once-scarce radioactive elements to less than 10 per cent of what they did cost. A new plant built at Oak Ridge, Tenn., to convert the dangerous wastes into useful products will begin operating this summer.

Thus one of the nastiest of nuclear liabilities has been turned into assets.

On the Strontium-90, Arthur Linden Baum of the Argonne National Laboratory announced discovery of a substance which can be used to "absorb" the dangerous substance out of human bones and get rid of it. This material is a harmless yellow dye called rhodizonate. A similar substance is tetrahydroxyquinone.

Experts believe these can be used to form groups of drugs that will unite with the Strontium-90 in insoluble compounds which then can be eliminated from the body as waste.

Thus, two of the major "worries" of the nuclear era may be well on their way to oblivion. If some counteracting agent can be found for the hydrogen bombs, the world will be in better shape.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Balance Of Arms

What is called peace is being maintained by a balance of arms. But a balance of arms means a constantly increasing and devastating budgetary rise in costs for all countries. No country on Earth can afford its present budget. No people can afford the taxes they have to pay, even in those countries where tax swindling is fashionable.

The current economic depression in the United States is due to two causes:

1. The psychological mass reaction to the high cost of living and high taxes;
2. The decision of large numbers of consumers to postpone buying of what might be called household capital goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators, electrical gadgets, etc., which are out-priced.

Opposition to a tax cut now—with emphasis on now—is that such a cut will not be sufficient to prime the pump of consumer buying and should it succeed in doing that, it would lead to a runaway inflation. These contradictions are often expressed by the same persons who fail to recognize them as contradictions. The Rockefeller Report on this subject is clear-cut and offers a platform upon which a debate can be held and a decision reached.

Congress is independent of the Administration, which, in the present situation, is beneficial to the country because what is most needed is debate, discussion, investigation, understanding. This debate is now taking place and ought to be reported across the country. The people ought to hear it all, because upon two actions that have to be taken by Congress at this session, the future of the country is involved, namely:

1. The Reorganization of Defense;
2. The decision about the tax cut.

The reorganization of the defense is not a new problem that arises in the Eisenhower Administration as a result of the Sputnik, as many believe. It has arisen after each war. For instance, in the Hoover Administration, the problem arose as to how to get rid of the horse. President Hoover regarded the horse as outmoded as a military instrument. But what would generals sit on? It was a long and bitter struggle, until Hoover appointed General MacArthur Chief of Staff, and MacArthur began the mechanization of the cavalry. Now generals do not sit on horses.

Roosevelt had an easy time with atomic fission. It came in wartime and was secret. Nobody knew about it but those who worked on the Manhattan Project and a few Russian spies. The money for it had to be found by secret and diverse ways. While no reorganization was involved, the Manhattan Project crossed departmental lines. Men were used for it who could do the job.

Atomic fission relates itself to the question of Reorganization in two ways:

1. It established a pattern of how a big job can be done while departmental lines are ignored. Had this system been employed in connection with rockets, missiles and satellites, we should not have been caught asleep by the Sputnik.
2. It brought into being a wholly new set of military instruments and techniques which may, and probably has, made conventional warfare obsolete.

Point one above, I think has been established; point two is still in the realm of doubt and discussion. The reason why this subject cannot be treated lightly is that if an error of judgment is made now, it cannot be corrected in time to avert disaster and will only be known should we be defeated in war.

These then are the problems which arise out of the balance of arms which the principal countries are trying to maintain. Amateurs jump to conclusions. For instance, those who believe that the pushbutton war definitely puts an end to infantry, the Navy and the Marine Corps may be right but they cannot prove their case by facts. Every war, since the Berlin Airlift, and the world had not known a day of peace since then, has been a local war, limited in scope, employing conventional weapons.

In the Korean War, for instance, the United States could have employed, but did not, atomic weapons; in the Indochina wars, no unconventional weapons were used; ditto for French-Algerian war; ditto for Israel-Egyptian struggles; ditto for the Hungarian uprising. It would therefore seem to be too early to discard the conventional forces and Russia has not discarded them, although Great Britain has reduced her forces now that there is no Empire to defend.

"Who Wants Reorganization?"

Secretary Dulles Preparing Policy Decision

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Nobody seems to have noticed, but the Secretary of State is now obviously preparing for one kind of major policy decision, while the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission is simultaneously and passionately plugging for exactly the opposite kind of decision.

John Foster Dulles is one of the very few men whom one can reasonably back to out-manuever Adm. Lewis Strauss. So the betting is on the Secretary and against the A. E. C. Chairman, despite the Admiral's wonderful knack of underground burrowing. But it is all rather odd, nonetheless.

The issue in question is the suspension of nuclear tests. Adm. Strauss has always been and still is bitterly opposed to test suspension in any form. He maintains that the United States is far, far ahead of the Soviets in atomic weapons development (which an increasing number of experts doubt). But although you would suppose that the nation that is far, far ahead would greatly benefit from a standstill, the Admiral also maintains that test suspension will be nothing but a giveaway to the Soviets.

The open sign that Secretary Dulles has already virtually committed the country to the opposite course was given this week, by British Prime Minister Macmillan.

In his last contribution to the Kremlin's interminable letter-game with the West, Macmillan specially singled out "the question of nuclear tests" as worthy of being discussed in preparation for the proposed summit conference. He further suggested an immediate meeting of technical experts to work out arrangements for inspecting and controlling a test-suspension agreement between East and West.

Hitherto, the Western allies have always maintained that the question of test-suspension could not be separated from the rest of the famous disarmament "package." The "package" includes such other items as a cut-off of actual production of nuclear weapons. Effective inspection and control of the whole package would require "letting you people into the kitchen," as Nikita Khrushchev once remarked, and this the Soviets will not accept.

On the other hand, no one would have to "go into the kitchen" to control test-suspension. The Soviets have been working hard to get a test-suspension agreement for over a year, because they want to close the atomic club before Germany, China and other, smaller powers become club-members. They have recently won a great propaganda victory, too, by announcing their own unilateral test-suspension — after completing long and intensive tests of advanced weapons.

In this situation, Macmillan has written to indicate approval in principle of test-suspension, with no mention whatever of the "package" that used to be so sacrosanct. The trend of British public opinion. A controlled suspension of nuclear tests will be popular in Britain, and this is vital for Macmillan whose political position is so precarious.

Furthermore it can be stated that Macmillan sent his letter with the full knowledge and approval of the State Department. Therefore the trend of John Foster Dulles' policy is also clear. Meanwhile the American government does not yet have an agreed national policy. Only the other day, the President himself in-

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Our squawk against the 300-foot Pekinese pop was the batter ran a longer distance than he hit.

It's 360 feet around the bases, give or take nothing. The distance was set by Abner Doubledheader a century ago.

But there's always a fly that ate too much ointment. Just when we were giving ourself a round-shouldered pat a loyal Los Angelean takes his pen to the plate.

He says, "You say a batter clips a 120-foot single to get to first. And twice that to go to 180 feet to second. Well, there's an exception that always gums the rule.

"How about the batter who beats out a 10-foot bunt down the foul line? Does the leg-hitter earn his ankle excursion? He goes his 90-feet with no stop-over privileges."

That was one time we were fairly hoisted on our own dumb-waiter.

We overlooked the fellow who lays 'em and legs 'em.

Cholesterol And Hardening Of The Arteries

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The cholesterol scare has led many individuals to ask for a diet to discourage hardening of the arteries. Such a regimen is unnecessary unless tests show that the blood is loaded with cholesterol or other fatty molecules or the physician advises restrictions in fat, particularly after a heart attack.

The best dietary plan, when the blood level is up, is to avoid visible fat and dairy products except skim milk and cottage cheese. Eat small servings of meat and trim away the fat from steaks, roast beef, and lamb chops. Avoid pork, bacon, and egg yolks.

There is no need for everyone to go overboard. A high cholesterol level can be lowered in other ways. For example, consuming vegetable (unsaturated) oils in meals helps nullify any adverse effects of animal fats. The best products along this line are the oils from corn, safflower, soybean, and fish.

This method is not as efficient as it sounds. Adding three grams of vegetable oil lowers the cholesterol as much as eliminating one gram of animal fat. In addition, vegetable oils are packed with calories and gaining weight will boost the cholesterol level automatically. The reading is increased also by stress, which means that a little tranquility will go a long way.

Weight reduction and exercise help. Certain plant steroids, such as sitosterol and lecithin, will decrease the amount of cholesterol in the blood. Thyroid extract steps up metabolism of the tissues, making the body use up its fat. Female sex hormones do the same but they have undesirable side reactions in men and in older women.

Let me emphasize once again that the pieces of the arteriosclerotic jigsaw puzzle are not all in place as yet. This is the time for moderation rather than for the wholesale elimination of many of our most nourishing foods.

COURAGE IN CARDIACS

D. W. writes: I recovered from a heart attack four years ago, and since then I worry and fret continually. Does coronary thrombosis cause a loss of courage?

REPLY

It is natural to have the blues after recovery from a heart attack but some victims worry and fret so much they become neurotic. As a rule, this aspect is only temporary but may persist in those who fail to adjust to adversities. The majority of these individuals always have harbored feelings of insecurity of it or not. May I ask a question? How much courage did you have before your heart attack?

President's Reorganization Plan Starts Feuds Intended To Stop

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note — With Drew Pearson in the Middle West, his column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

Washington. — The President's military reorganization plan, which is supposed to stop inter-service feuding, has started some dandy new feuds.

Feud No. 1—The armed services are feuding behind the scenes over the best way to halt their feuding. The Air Force favors the President's plan, the Navy is against it and the Army is split.

Through its civilian arms — The Navy League and Naval Advisory Council—the Navy is waging an undercover campaign against Ike's proposals. Retired Adm. J. W. Reeves, Jr., Advisory Council Chairman, has called on his members to bring pressure on Congressmen to defeat the President's reorganization plan.

Reeves' confidential letter warns: "Do not—repeat do not—speak as a member of the Advisory Council or Navy League but as an individual citizen. This personal contact is most important at this time either by telephone, wire or person-to-person approach."

Feud No. 2—Georgia's crusty, crafty Congressman Carl Vinson, who has opened hostile hearings on the reorganization bill, is feuding with the White House over who should write the final version.

"I appreciate the President's interest," Vinson told the White House aides bluntly, "but Congress is going to write the reorganization bill."

Vinson Forces Action

The caustic Georgian prepared a speech last week blasting Ike for talking about reorganization but sending Congress no formal recommendations. The White House got advance wind of the speech and in order to thwart Vinson rushed Ike's proposed bill to the press a couple of hours before Vinson took the floor.

It remains to be seen whether the reorganization battle will be a feud to end all feuds.

Whatever the outcome, however, it promises to be the greatest military debate since the Air Force was split off from the Army in 1947 and the three sister services were sent to live together in the Pentagon in what was supposed to be one big happy family.

Instead, they put on a display of eye-scratching, back-biting, and hair-pulling that drove the first Secretary of Defense, the late James Forrestal, literally out of his mind. Interservice rivalry has gone so far that the services now keep secrets, including vital missile information, from each other. Thousands of classified papers are stamped for Army, Navy, or Air Force eyes only.

At the same time, the defense machinery has become hopelessly clogged with red tape. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, the Army chief, has complained that 19 civilian officials stand between him and the Commander-in-Chief. All 19 have a say in how the Army should be run.

Wilson's "No-Men"

Former Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson surrounded himself with 29 deputy or assistant secretaries, similar to General Motors vice presidents, who had authority to say "no" but seldom "yes." In other words, they had a negative authority which does not permit them to make high policy decisions but only to block them. They are still functioning.

Wilson built up a gigantic, unwieldy staff of over 2,400 employees, divided into empires within empires. These empires are headed by deputies and assistants who keep adding more employees on the theory that the more Indians they command the bigger chief they become.

The result, however, is to impede and obstruct decision-making. A new idea must pass through stifling layers of bureaucracy. By the time it has run the gauntlet of assistants, it is weighted down with so many comments that the Secretary of Defense has difficulty wading through the accumulated memos.

Eisenhower and Vinson have different ideas about how to correct the abuses. Ike wants to downgrade the three services and give the Secretary of Defense more power. His plan, however, abolishes the right of military subordinates to bring their differences over defense policies to Congress. This is a right for which Congress will battle to the end.

Ike's Ideas "Too Drastic"

The President seriously considered stripping the three services of their departmental standing and making their civilian chiefs Undersecretaries of Defense for Army, Navy and Air. Secretary of Defense McElroy persuaded the President, however, that this would be too drastic.

On the other hand, Vinson wants to bolster the independence of the three services by bringing the Secretaries of the Army, Navy, and Air Force into the powerful, policy-making National Security Council.

His plan would also streamline the Pentagon more drastically than the President's recommendations by slashing the Secretary's staff from 2,400 to 600 employees and eliminating 14 deputy and assistant secretaries. It would also curb the power of the Defense Comptroller whose fiscal policies have often determined defense decisions. Meanwhile the battle lines are drawn and Washington is settling down to a good fight.

Waiting Around

By Brother Barnabas

What are you doing these days of depression? Nothing, just marking time. What's your wife doing? She's helping me.

Such snippets of conversation may be heard on many a street corner these days.

There's a difference between waiting and waiting around. Waiting for something to happen may be in order, but waiting around for something to happen is shiftless. Generally the good thing happens to those who work while they wait.

The impatience of waiting is felt when a traveler without his brief case has to change trains at a country connection when the B&O is four hours late.

Or, when one with a jumping toothache and corns has to stand in line in a doctor's office. His corns help him forget all his other troubles.

Or, wondering when the recession will end and whether the "summit conference" will ever materialize and, if so, what will it amount to.

If all life's "waits" were strung together end on end the line would reach to the moon.

A Universal Experience

Waiting is an experience of all ages, and in every zone of biological experience.

The thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts. When will the "teens" ever arrive. "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

Micawber will be waiting for something to turn up. Age will be waiting for his pension or social security check.

Priscilla will be waiting for John Alden to pop the question. "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"

Every Juliet is waiting for her Romeo, wondering when he will arrive, the color of his hair, his stature, his car.

If she is not specially devout her dream book and not her Bible will be her guide. The Book speaks wisely of marriage on various occasions. For instance, in second Corinthians (6:14) we are admonished: "Do not be mismatched with unbelievers."

Girls, don't marry a man to reform him; the odds are against you and posterity. Resolve that "the lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine."

Meaning Of Dreams

Dreams and their meanings have been codified. If you dream of an idiot, remember not to interfere with the affairs of others.

If you dig a grave in your dream, you will soon marry.

If you dream of drowning, your mode of living is unwise. Better change from Burgandy to milk.

If you dream of a wedding, not your own, good news.

People dream in church. I never disturbed a preacher I know, for when he saw one of his listeners sleeping he felt that the angels were communicating truths he was not able to put across.

In a congregation of 500 it would be interesting to have a spectrum of the thoughts and imaginings in the minds of the people.

The lawyer would take his vacation in church, from the habit of asking questions in court and waiting for the witness to answer.

The doctor would be listening to hear what the speaker would say in the appendix of his discourse.

What Eisenhower Dreams About

It would be interesting to know what takes place in the mind of Eisenhower when he goes to church.

Does he wonder why the Dominie doesn't tee-off with a brassie and not a niblick, and why he has to spend so much time hunting the ball.

Golf is a game in which a ball one and one-half inches in diameter is placed on another ball eight-thousand miles in diameter. The object is to hit the small ball, and not the large one.

There's a widespread opinion that we're not hitting the big balls by lavishing so much money on little-brother countries, especially when they bite the hand that's feeding them.

We know love is all-powerful, but it cannot be coerced. Nations held together by covenants with fingers crossed are bound by ropes of sand. Love, and not suspicion, is the tie that binds nations and families as well.

There are few friends in the show business. They either knife one another or marry them, or both. At the root of the trouble, is the lack of love.

Whether building a home on the earth or in the skies, it is best to wait for love, for no other foundation is secure.

There's a long, long night of waiting

Till my dreams all come true;

Till the day I'll be going down That long, long trail with you.

Fort Hill Beats Beall On Hammond's Home Run, 6-5

Circuit Belt Decides Extra Inning Battle

Campers Nose Out Indians, 3-2; Bruce And LaSalle Win

COUNTY LEAGUE Standing Of The Teams

Team	W	L	Pct
Fort Hill	4	0	1.000
Allegany	3	1	.750
LaSalle	3	1	.750
Beall	2	2	.500
Flintstone	2	2	.500
Maplehurst	1	3	.250
Valley	0	4	.000

Jimmy Hammond clouted a long home run to right field in the top of the eighth inning to break up a pitching duel between Russ Jones and Dave Richards as Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Fort Hill High School defending champions notched their fourth consecutive victory of the season in the Allegany County Interscholastic League over Beall High School yesterday at Frostburg. The score was 6-5.

Despite eleven fielding miscues by the Beall team, Richards gave Jones a great deal all the way before finishing on the short end as a result of Hammond's terrific blast in the extra inning battle.

Jones Wins 5th In Row

The victory was Jones' second of the year and his fifth without a loss over two seasons in league competition. He was the victor over Richards twice last year.

Fort Hill spotted Beall three runs in the first inning, took the lead at 4-3 in the fourth and was in front 5-3 until the bottom of the 7th when Beall rallied for two runs to deadlock the count at five-all.

Each team was credited with six hits and Gene Zumpano of Beall was the only player to obtain two safeties, including a two-bagger.

Richards fanned ten and issued only two passes while Jones struck out six and walked a like number of batsmen.

The loss was the first this season for Beall against two wins and one tie game.

Fort Hill extended its league winning streak to eleven games, having won the last seven games of the 1957 campaign.

Hook Outlets Fleege

Allegany High's Campers stayed right on the heels of the league leaders by edging Mt. Savage High School at Penn Avenue Field where Bill Hook gained the decision over Wayne Fleege in a duel between outpitches.

Coach Chet Payne's Campers scored all their runs in the second inning while the Indians counted twice in the fourth.

In nothing his second win of the season, Hook limited Mt. Savage to six hits, fanned 10 and issued two passes. Fleege held the Campers to four blows, one a triple by Gary Shook, whiffed nine and did not give up a base on balls. Fleege Leroy Morris and Rich Lybarger smacked two batters for Mt. Savage.

In the second inning Bill Brode singled and scored the Campers' first run when Walker got two bases on an outfield error. Shook tripled home the second run and scored later on Bob Stephens' single. A double by Morris, D. Lowery's walk and Lybarger's timely two-base swing produced the Mt. Savage tallies in the fourth.

Eddie Trimble, Mt. Savage right fielder, crashed into the fence in making a great catch of Hugh Powell's drive in the fifth. Powell also turned in a sparkling fielding play in the 4th when he snared Burkett's long drive with his gloved hand.

LaSalle Tops Aggie

LaSalle's Explorers took over third place by defeating Flintstone's Aggies at Flintstone by the score of 4-2, with Johnny Hinds gaining the decision over Wayne Boggs.

All of the scoring in this game was done in the first three innings.

Three of Flintstone's hits were credited to Heavener, third baseman. LaSalle obtained only four safeties, including doubles by Rich Murray and Smith.

Bruce Scores 2nd Win

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce Bulldogs broke a three-game losing streak by downing Valley High School at Barton by the score of 6-1.

Lynn Morris went the route for the Bulldogs and kept the opposition's seven hits well scattered, four of which were shared by George Lauder and Ray Miller. Bruce solved the offerings of Lauder and Cliff Preston for nine blows. Morris and Grove obtained two hits each for the winners and Iser belted a triple.

Herman Hickman, Former Yale Grid Coach, Dies

Sports Commentator, Vols' Football Star, Succumbs In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herman Hickman, sports commentator and former football coach at Yale, died Friday.

Hickman, a former grid star at the University of Tennessee entered Providence Hospital March 28 after being stricken with an ulcer attack at La Plata, Md. He was then en route to Florida with Mrs. Hickman.

Attending physicians said the rotund, jovial sports commentator underwent an operation last Monday and had been in satisfactory condition until Thursday.

Then he suffered an acute hemorrhage in the esophagus, the tube leading down into the stomach.

Bleeding was controlled, the doctors said, but because of "severe liver and kidney complications" his condition remained critical.

Hickman was 46.

His wife, Helen, and Mother, Mrs. Howard Hickman, were at the bedside with Toots Shor, New York restaurateur, and Dave Driscoll, a business associate.

Hickman, retired from coaching several years ago and had been commenting since then on the sports scene for radio, television and magazines.

Hickman's home was in New Haven, Conn.

Ramos Scores 13th Victory Over Red Sox

Washington Hurler Tosses Six-Hitter, Whips Boston, 2-0

BOSTON (AP)—Poised Pedro Ramos fanned his winning record against Boston by pitching Washington to a 2-0 victory today while former Red Sox players Albie Pearson and Norm Zauchin furnished the offensive punch.

Ramos, the Cuban right-hander who appears to own the Sox, limited his victims to six hits while extending his lifetime record over Boston to 13-5.

Eddie Yost, who had walked his two earlier trips, opened Washington's decisive fifth inning with a double which hit near the top of the wall in left center.

Then Pearson, the 5-6 outfielder, and massive Zauchin, Senators' first baseman, who were acquired in the off-season trade from the Red Sox, took over.

Zauchin followed by poling a two base blow off the wall in left center which brought Pearson around.

Zauchin, collecting two doubles and a single in four trips, increased his batting average to .429.

Ramos gave three of his hits over the last two innings when he had to bear down to preserve his shutout.

In the eighth, Ted Williams singled, moving Jim Piersall, who also had singled, to third. But Jackie Jensen fouled to catcher Clint Courtney and Frank Malzone hit into a force play that ended the threat.

Pirates Trim Redlegs, 4-3

Clemente Clouts Three-Run Homer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Roberto Clemente got in on all the Pittsburgh Pirate scoring tonight, including his three-run homer in the seventh inning that helped sink Cincinnati's Redlegs, 4-3. Pirate starter Vernon Law had to call on Elroy Face in the eighth to save the victory.

Redleg starter Harvey Hadix, who took the loss, had steady work putting down uprisings in the first six innings, and finally fell apart in the seventh.

The big Pirate rally started when Hadix doled out walks to Bob Skinner and Ted Kluszewski. Then came Clemente's big blow. Willard Schmidt finished up for Cincinnati.

The Pirates had pulled even, 1-1 in the sixth inning when Clemente doubled, took third on a putout at first base and scrambled home after Hank Foles fled out.

Law, winning his first game this year, had firm control most of his stint, except in the sixth inning when the Reds loaded the bases with one out on a single, a double and an intentional walk. But he wiggled out of that one by fanning Don Hoak and getting Gus Bell to hit into a force play.

Championships will be decided in nine weight classes. There will also be a five-round exhibition bout between Baltimore boxers.

Vincent DePaula, of Baltimore, will be the referee.

Chicago Snaps Losing Streak In 12th Inning

Aparicio's Single Defeats K.C., 6-5

CHICAGO (AP)—The flustered Chicago White Sox snapped a five-game losing streak Friday, whipping the Kansas City Athletics 6-5 in 12 innings after scoring three times in the ninth to send the game into overtime.

Luis Aparicio's single off Walt Craddock, third Kansas City pitcher, sent Jim Rivera home from second with the winning run. Rivera's two-run, two-out single in the ninth brought about the 5-5 deadlock.

The victory, coupled with Boston's 2-0 loss to Washington, hoisted the Sox out of the American League cellar.

Bill Fischer, third Chicago pitcher, was credited with the victory, his first in two decisions. Fischer came on in the ninth inning and handcuffed the A's without allowing a base hit.

Rivera opened the Sox 12th by beating out an infield single. Bubba Phillips sacrificed Rivera to second and Ron Jackson, batting for Fischer, walked. Aparicio then lined his game-winning hit to center.

Kansas City starter Alex Kellner appeared to have his first victory tucked away until the Sox put on their ninth-inning uprising.

With one out in the ninth, Nellie Fox and Jim Landis hit successive singles and Sherm Lollar walked. Virgil Trucks relieved Kellner and walked pinchhitter Earl Torgeson to force in a run. Tito Francona, batting for Al Smith who had grounded into two double plays, struck out but Rivera singled to right, driving in the tying runs.

The A's didn't break into the scoring column until the fourth inning. Sox starter Early Wynn breezed through the first three innings while chalking up six strikeouts before Bill Tuttle opened the fourth with a single off Fox's glove.

Wynn retired the next two men but Bob Cerv lashed a double into left center and Woody Held singled home both runs. The A's picked up two more runs in the sixth when they knocked Wynn out of the box.

Keyser And Moorefield Post 5th Straight Wins

Circleville, Capon Bridge Are Victors

Keyser High School extended its winning streak to five games in the Potomac Valley Conference by defeating Elk Garden High School yesterday at Elk by the score of 6-3.

Moorefield's defending champions, beaten in the first game of the season, reeled off its fifth consecutive victory at the expense of Romney High School, 10-9.

In other conference battles, the Circleville Indians edged Petersburg High School's Vikings, 3-2, and Capon Bridge High School trounced the West Virginia School for the Deaf by the score of 14-3.

Keyser grouped its runs in three in the third and fifth frames to defeat the Elks. Bob Staggs, who started on the rubber for Coach "Tack" Clark's team, hurled 4½ innings and received credit for the victory. Wimer finished for the victors.

Each team collected three hits with Ray Hinkle of Elk Garden pacing the stickers with three blows.

Harry Fitzwater pounded a triple, two doubles and a single for a perfect day at the plate as Moorefield took the Pioneers into camp. The winners were charged with nine field miscues. Cessna and Stickleby had two hits each for Romney. The win went to George Sherman, his third of the campaign.

Bill Reynolds, Petersburg hurler had Circleville shut out until the final frame when the Indians staged a three-run uprising to pull the game out of the fire. After Teter walked and Blank singled, Wimer tied the score with a triple and came home later on W. Bennett's "squeeze" bunt.

West Virginia School for the Deaf committed eight errors while going down to their sixth straight conference defeat at the hands of Capon Bridge. Slonaker was the winner and Moon the loser in this contest. Doug Whitacre of Capon Bridge and Adkins, Perry and Trader of the Lions collected two hits each.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pinchitter Gene Woodling's double with two outs in the ninth inning scored two runners and pulled out a 2-1 victory for the Baltimore Orioles over the New York Yankees Friday night.

Pen-Mar Baseball League Set For Season

Salisbury, Pa. Makes Debut At Flintstone

Eight Teams Have 146 Under Contract; Games Start 2:30

The Pen-Mar Baseball League will launch its tenth consecutive campaign Sunday with games scheduled at Mt. Savage, Wellersburg, Flintstone and Zihlman at 2:30 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time.

Barrelville's Old Exports, play-off champions in 1957, will pry off the lid at Flintstone. Hyndman's Merchants, pennant winners last season, will oppose Wellersburg on the latter's field. Zihlman will play host to the Grantsville Sluggers from Garrett county and Salisbury, Pa., the new entry will do battle with the Old Germans at Mt. Savage. Salisbury replaces Centerville, Pa., in the eighth-circuit year.

Pen-Mar League's Past Winners

Year	Pennant	Playoffs
1947	Hyndman	Barrelville
1948	Barrelville	Barrelville
1949	Grantsville	Grantsville

Maryland Hunt Club 'Chase Is Set Today

SHAWAN, Md. — The chase over 4 miles and 22 timber jumps for the Maryland Hunt Cup will be contested for the 62nd time by 9 horses and riders Saturday afternoon.

The Hunt Cup brings together the winners of the first two spring steeplechase classics in Maryland along with last year's winner.

Mrs. Henry Obre's 13-year-old Coup de Vite won My Lady's Manor three weeks ago and since has taken it easy. Louis Neilson Jr.'s 9-year-old Coke Hi came fourth to take the Grand National last Saturday.

Coke Hi was an easy winner over Mrs. C. Paul Denckla's Ned's Flying, last year's Hunt Cup winner.

Other entries this time are Charles M. Cann's Gallant Ship, George L. Horstom Jr.'s Irish Well, Richard K. Mellon's Ocasia's Son, William B. Thompson's Gofetchit, William H. Turner Jr.'s Carolina Hills and Mrs. John B. Hannum 3d's Zanbar's Son.

Houtteman Signs

CHARLESTON — Right-handed pitcher Art Houtteman will attempt to regain the stature he once enjoyed with the Detroit Tigers via the Tigers' American Association farm club Charleston Senators.

Senators' General Manager Hillman Lyons announced that the 30-year-old major league veteran of three American League clubs was signed to a Charleston contract.

Mickey Boy Takes 7th At Laurel

Meaux Pilots 15th Winner Of Session

LAUREL, Md., April 25 (AP)—Alex J. Bullock's Mickey Boy, a Maryland-bred and owned 3-year-old colt, flashed winning form for the second time of the year to take the Georgia Purse, featured seventh race here today. Mickey Boy paid $9.00 as the second choice.

Coming from last position, Mickey Boy caught favorite Sew It Up, owned by Stanley Sagner, nearing the wire and won by a half length while completing a mile and a sixteenth in 1:47 3/5.

John A. Manfuso's Arctic Gold, who was knocked off stride at the three quarter pole, recovered well enough to finish third, about three lengths behind the choice.

Ridden by Clarence Meaux, Mickey Boy was rank while rated in the early stages, but overcame a loss of ground and appeared ready to pull away from opposition at the finish.

The good effort moves the son of Colonel Mike and Furr Buckle into a spot among the early favorites for the $15,000-added Maryland Derby to be run at the same mile-and-a-sixteenth distance a week from tomorrow.

The victory was the 15th of the meeting for Meaux and he moved into second place in the local jockeys' contest behind Howard Grant, who has ridden 32 winners.

A total of 10,128 fans wagered $902,937 on the eight-race card.

West Virginia Trout Season Starts Today

Waters Stocked With 180,000 Adult Fish

By The Associated Press

The annual custom of firing a gun to mark the start of the trout season in West Virginia was to be observed at 5:35 a. m. Saturday at two of the state's best fishing havens — the 15-acre Spruce Knob Lake in Randolph County and the 43-acre Summit Lake in Greenbrier County.

The estimated 75,000 fishermen expected to inaugurate the trout season were advised to stick to the headquarters of smaller streams and to the lakes.

"That's where the best fishing generally will be found," Fish Chief Ed Kinney of the Conservation Department said. "Most of our larger trout streams are high and muddy."

Dr. Kinney estimated Friday that there would be some 4,000 trout enthusiasts at each of the Spruce Knob and Summit lakes. "On opening day, those two lakes usually resemble sites of boat regattas," he said. "The gun is fired and everyone starts rowing as fast as possible to get to his favorite fishing spots."

Fish technicians have stocked the state's cold water lakes and streams with 180,000 adult fish, ranging in length from nine to 15 inches. All but 16 per cent of this number have been placed in the streams.

There will be no minimum legal size on trout. The daily creel limit will be eight for stream fishermen and five from lakes or other trout impoundments. Dr. Kinney noted, however, that a lake fisherman reaching his quota of five, can take the remaining three from streams.

Spring Trout Qualifying Test To Open At CCC

The qualifying round of the spring tournament of the Men's Golf Association will get under way today at the Cumberland Country Club and will be concluded Sunday, May 4 when the players will be divided into flights for match play.

Carroll Boggs, pro, yesterday announced that Somerset, Pa., has been added to the men's golf schedule for the season, giving the CCC linksmen a total of 11 matches.

Somerset will play here May 21 and the return match will be played on the Pennsylvania's course July 16.

The CCC also has scheduled home-and-home matches with North Fork of Johnstown, Pa., Kingwood, W. Va., Martinsburg, W. Va., Maplehurst of Frostburg and a single match with Fountain Head of Hagerstown here on May 25.

To Lead Explorers

PHILADELPHIA — Al Ferner, 64, junior from Collingswood, N. J., has been elected captain of the 1958-59 LaSalle College basketball team. Ferner, a varsity performer for the past two seasons, follows Charlie Eltringham as the Explorer's floor leader.

Delany Runs 4:06.5 Mile In Penn Race

Anchors Villanova To Record Victory

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA — Fabulous Ron Delany ran a 4:06.5 anchor mile, made up 35 yards in the process and enabled Villanova to win the distance medley relay Friday as the Penn Relays — a three-race track and field circus — opened on Franklin Field.

This was the only one of the seven major relay championships to be decided opening day, and Delany, the Olympic 1,500-meter champion, enabled Villanova to come home in 9:53.3, which shattered the Wildcats' own meet record of 9:58.1, set two years ago.

When Delany took the baton from Bob Godesky, the Wildcats were not in contention and Delany started 35 yards back of Crawford Kennedy, a speedy Michigan State operative.

But step by step Delany closed the gap until he was right on Kennedy's heels in the backstretch. From that point on, there was no doubt about the outcome. Delany toyed with Kennedy for another 50 yards, then lit out for home. At the tape, Delany was 10 yards to the good.

It marked the third straight year Villanova has won this one, and Delany has been the big man in each victory. Vic Dimailo led off for Villanova, followed by Ed Colley.

St. John's of Brooklyn was third, Georgetown finished fourth and Penn State fifth.

The judges consider leadership, character, sportsmanship and athletic ability in making the award. McDonald played on the soccer and baseball teams.

Independents Boost Lead To 11 Games In Frostburg Loop

FROSTBURG, April 25 — The Independents increased their lead to 11 games in the Frostburg Ten Pin League this week by defeating the Republicans, 3-0. The Eagles also won three games from the Lions Club.

James Porter's 235-659 was high for the Eagles and Charles Schultz's 223-579 paced the Lions. Zee Dinning's 231-589 headed the league leaders and Becky Bradley's 216-570 was best for the Republican Club. The Standings:

	W	L
Independents	60	38
Eagles	48	48
Republicans	49	47
Lions	35	61

U. S. Men Cagers Win In Russia

MOSCOW, April 25 (INS) — A United States men's basketball team overcame a nine-point half-time deficit today to defeat Russia, 74 to 68, in the opening of a tour of American teams in Russia.

The Soviet women's teams bested Uncle Sam's distaff quintet, 61 to 46, in the first match.

The men's game was a neck-and-neck affair and the Russians led 40 to 31 at the half.

The All-Star U. S. five was led in scoring by Dick Boushka of the Wichita Vickers. Boushka, who starred at St. Louis University in his college days, scored 17 points.

The U. S. team had a difficult time coping with the unfamiliar European-style rules and the Italian-type ball.

Misty Flight Bows To Start Counting At Jamaica Track

JAMAICA, L. I. N. Y., April 25 (AP)—John S. Phipps' Start Counting humbled Wheatley Stable's Misty Flight in the three-horse Cunningham Heights Handicap at Jamaica Race Track today.

The 3-year-old son of Count Ulvira 2nd, ridden by Manuel Ycaza, who was accounting for the third winner of the day, stepped the mile and a sixteenth in the good time of 1:43 2/5 to score by seven lengths with Misty Flight eight more in front of George D. Widener's Ardee.

Outside in the field of three, Start Counting paid $8.50. There was no place or show betting.

Misty Flight broke on top, but was joined by Start Counting and they raced as a team down the backstretch. Start Counting took over at the half mile pole and gradually drew off to a winning lead. Arcaro rallied his mount.

2-5 favorite, at the top of the stretch, but Start Counting drew out steadily in the final eighth.

Andrew McDonald Gets Cohen Award

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Andrew McDonald of Baltimore has been voted recipient of the Morton H. Cohen award as outstanding senior male at the University of Maryland.

The trophy is given by the Sigma Delta sorority in memory of Morton H. Cohen, former university track star who died of leukemia in 1954.

The judges consider leadership, character, sportsmanship and athletic ability in making the award. McDonald played on the soccer and baseball teams.

Chapman, Durham Will Play For Title

PINEHURST, N. C. — Dick Chapman, wobbling after a fast start, pulled his game together to beat Bill Hyndman with a par 4 on the 19th hole Friday and join Herb Durham in the finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

Durham, of Dallas, Tex. scored a 1-up victory in regulation distance over Jack Penrose of Miami, Fla.

Chapman and Durham will play for the championship over 36 holes Saturday.

Chuma Wins Fifth For Mountaineers

MORGANTOWN — West Virginia University won its third Southern Conference game in five attempts here Friday over Virginia Tech, 6-1, behind the three-hit pitching of left-handed Paul Chuma.

Chuma notched his fifth victory in six decisions and boosted the Mountaineers to an 8-6 season mark. The loss was Virginia Tech's third in six conference games and left the Gobblers with a 6-6 season record.

Silver Beaver Awards Made To Area Scouters

The Silver Beaver Award, highest Scouting honor for an adult on a councilwide basis, was presented to three Potomac Council BSA officials. Thursday at the annual appreciation dinner for volunteer workers at the recreation hall of Centre Street Methodist Church.

The coveted award went to Ross O. Decker, this city, council camping and activities chairman. John L. Towler, this city, Nacacolin Trail District advancement chairman, and David G. Nuzum, Keyser, Tri-Valley District chairman.

The men were chosen for the recognition by a committee headed by Victor D. Heisey, this city, and the selections were kept secret until the dinner Thursday.

Decker, who is secretary-treasurer of the Light and Decker Company, this city, has been active in Scouting since 1943 when he became a troop commit-tee member.

He has been a member of the council executive board and chairman of the camping and activities committee since 1949. He was council vice president from 1953 to 1956 and was also active in the campaign for funds to build camp Potomac.

Nuzum became interested in scouting in 1948 when he became a troop commit-tee member. In 1953 he became district chairman of Keyser area troops, and since 1956 has headed Tri-Valley District which includes all troops in the Keyser, Tri-Towns and South Branch sections.

Nuzum has been a council executive board member since 1953. He has been head of the English Department of Potomac State School, Keyser, for 19 years. In 1956 he was chosen as "Keyser's Man of the Year."

Towler, owner of Allegany Hotel Inn, first registered as an adult in scouting as a troop commit-tee member in 1940 and still is an active member of that committee.

He has been advancement chairman of Cumberland District and its successor, Nacacolin Trail District, since 1950.

The awards were presented by Dr. Thomas Bess, Keyser, council president, himself a holder of the Silver Beaver and also the Silver Eagle, highest regional award.

There have been only 24 other awards bestowed in Potomac Council since 1932.

Nearly 200 unit leaders, adult workers and their wives attended the dinner which had Paul W. Handel, scout executive of Central Ohio Council, Columbus, as the main speaker.

Each returning resident of the U.S., whether citizen or not, may bring free of duty merchandise for personal use worth a maximum of $500 under special conditions.

Ball Field Work Speeded

The Recreation Department said yesterday its maintenance crew has been stepping up the pace this week getting various ball fields in shape for the season's opening.

At Stitches Field in North End, grass planted last fall is coming along well and a water line was installed Thursday which will be used to feed a sprinkler system for which the department is negotiating. A borrowed sprinkler was used on the area for the first time Thursday.

At Thomas Post Playground in South End, grass planted last fall was cut for the first time this week.

At Penn Avenue field, the crew installed a new overhang for the backstop and put the field in shape for play.

Dirt is being hauled to Taylor field so it can be used for baseball and softball during the summer. East Side playground has been graded to provide better drainage. The field is already in use.

The department said about 200

Wiley Ford Bridge Job Data Sought

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday sent a letter to Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the State Roads Commission, asking that it be advised with respect to the current plans of the state agency in connection with the construction of a new bridge at Wiley Ford and the approaches thereto.

The board stated it is particularly interested in the approximate year that construction will be started.

Trimmed Aid Bill Sent To House Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee has settled for a 338-million-dollar cut in President Eisenhower's foreign aid program for the next fiscal year.

It sent the House Thursday a bill authorizing $2,958,900,000 in new money for military and economic aid to Allied nations around the world and the use of $644,182,500 in funds previously appropriated.

Stock Market Strengthens In Heavy Trading Session

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market strengthened late Friday to advance in the second heaviest trading of the year to another new 1958 high.

Volume of 3,020,000 shares compared with 2,870,000 Thursday and was the biggest since 3,950,000 shares changed hands on Jan. 4.

It was the second three-million-share day of 1958.

Weighted down by Chrysler Corp.'s 15 million dollar first quarter loss and its dividend slash announced after Thursday's close, the market had tough going at the start. Chrysler touched a nine-year low and closed with a net loss of 2 points.

The lower-priced stock such as American Motors, Servel and Studebaker - Packard continued getting a good play.

Inflation-conscious investors continued to buy oils which showed consistent, moderate gains. While losers appeared in almost every major division industrial stocks bore the burden of the advance.

Rails were ragged. Utilities plugged ahead on average. Gains appeared among tobaccos, drugs, chemicals, steels and autos.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $167.10—the third time this week the average moved to a '58 high as well as a new top since Oct. 4. The industrial component rose $1.20, the rails were unchanged and the utilities were up 20 cents to another new peak.

For the fifth straight session American Motors topped the most active list. It was unchanged at 11 1/2 on 79,000 shares. Second was Servel, up 1 1/2 at 8 1/2 on 78,400 shares. Third was Chrysler, off 2 at 44 1/2 on 64,900 shares.

Bethlehem Steel withstood whatever disappointment there was among uninformed investors in regard to the sharp drop in first quarter earnings and the stock rose 1/2. The corporation declared its regular dividend after the close yesterday, although quarterly earnings didn't match the payout.

Other gainers included Youngstown Sheet 1 1/2, American Tobacco 1 1/2, General Electric 1 1/2, Union Carbide 1 1/2, Homestake 2, Chesapeake & Ohio 1 1/2, Amerasia 3/4, Gulf Oil 1/2, United Aircraft 1/2 and U. S. Rubber 1/2.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 810,000 shares compared with 740,000 Thursday. Gainers included Arkansas Louisiana Gas, Fairchild Camera, Mesabi Iron, Scullin Steel and Sherwin-Williams.

County Adopts Insurance Plan

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday passed an order concerning insurance coverage for county employees.

Acting on the recommendation of Henry K. Duke, local insurance consultant, the commissioners voted unanimously to continue the life, accident and health insurance coverage with Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, but to discontinue the hospital-medical-surgical coverage presently with that company.

Effective May 4, the hospital-medical-surgical coverage will be placed with Maryland Hospital Service, Inc., and Maryland Medical Service, Inc. (Blue Cross and Blue Shield).

The net effect of placing the hospital-medical-surgical coverage with the Blue Shield and Blue Cross will provide broader coverage at a saving to the county of $5,000 per year and to each employee a saving of approximately $15 per year.

C&A Granted Fourth Boost In Gas Rates

PSC Cuts 22 Per Cent From Revenue Plea

BALTIMORE — The Public Service Commission Friday granted permission for the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. of Cumberland to increase its gross income by $362,010.

The company had asked for authority to hike its rates sufficiently to bring in an additional $465,000 and a rate of return of 6.75 per cent on its overall investment.

The SPC said it considered that 6.5 per cent on its investment was a "fair and reasonable rate of return to the company."

C&A distributes gas to 21,000 customers in Cumberland and Western Maryland and in neighboring West Virginia. Today's action affects only Maryland customers.

Asked 22% More

The company said that if it were granted the $465,000 additional revenue it requested, the increase would amount to about an 18-cent a month hike to customers using gas for cooking, water heating and clothes drying. For those using gas for house heating, the increase would amount to about $2.11 a month.

The PSC did not set new rates for the company. It told the C&A only that it was to set rates to bring in not more than $362,010 additional gross revenue.

Since the PSC granted about 78 per cent of the extra revenue asked, the new rates will probably average about 14 cents a month for minimum users and about $1.65 a month more for those who heat their homes with gas.

The company applied for higher rates last Nov. 21. Hearings were begun last Feb. 19 and were concluded on March 21.

Opposing the increase were the mayor and city council of Cumberland, the Allegany County commissioners and several industrial concerns.

Fourth Since 1952

The commission noted that before 1952 the C&A had not increased its rates in Maryland for nearly 25 years and in that year produced less than a two per cent return. It was granted rate hikes in 1952, 1954 and 1956.

The commission said the company's net original cost rate base at $8,862,442 in determining the additional amount of income the company should receive.

The commission said the increase granted today should provide the C&A with a net operating income of $376,059.

Two Area Men Enlist In Army

Two area men with prior service records enlisted in the Army at the local recruiting station this week, according to M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley.

Richard F. Connelly Jr., 22, of 14 Mill Street, Frostburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Connelly Sr., enlisted for three years in the Army Security Agency. He formerly served in the Army Field Artillery.

Richard T. Combs, 24, of 1052 National Highway, LaVale, husband of JoEllen Combs, re-enlisted for service with the Army Guided Missiles and chose to serve at Fort Banks, Mass. He had two years prior service with an artillery unit.

Under the new missile program, men enlisting are permitted to select the city in which they wish to serve, Sgt. Hartley said.

Area Buses Adopt Daylight Saving Time

Officials of the Osgood Bus Lines, Inc., announced that effective Sunday two round trip runs will be eliminated between Keyser and Cumberland, and the time changed on one bus leaving Keyser for Oakland. The buses will also operate this summer on Daylight Saving Time.

The Keyser to Piedmont run at 6:15 a. m. is being taken off completely. Others being eliminated are the Keyser to Cumberland run at 6:50 a. m. and the Keyser to Cumberland run at 5:45 p. m. Also being taken off are buses leaving Cumberland for Keyser at 7:50 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.

The bus which previously left Keyser for Oakland at 8:50 will now leave at 7:50. All other buses will remain the same.

They were selected from a group of 18 finalists of the three ninth grade sections and were chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, personality, personal hygiene and service to the school.

The royal couple will be crowned at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the school auditorium by Miss Myra M. Nefflen, principal. Dennis is a

McKaig Gets Citation Of Library Unit

First State Award Goes To Local Man

A member of the board of the Cumberland Free Public Library last night received the first citation to be awarded by the Maryland Library Association.

The citation to W. Wallace McKaig, president of the Cumberland Steel Company, was accepted by Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library as the association opened a two-day convention in Baltimore.

The citation pointed out that Mr. McKaig had been chosen for the first citation to a library trustee in recognition of his outstanding contributions and services to libraries.

Mr. McKaig has been a generous contributor to the local library for over 10 years and has been an active member of its board for the past five years.

The citation was presented by Miss Dorothy W. Reeder, president of the association.

The annual meeting is being attended by representatives of public, college, industrial and school libraries of the state.

Appeals Court Affirms Ruling In Custody Case

The Maryland Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed an Allegany County Circuit Court decree denying a suit by a former Cumberland man for custody of his 10-year-old daughter who is now living with her maternal grandparents in Cumberland.

James C. Trenton, 31, and his second wife appealed from the decision of former Chief Judge George Henderson, who ruled that Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Christ, the maternal grandparents, should retain custody of the girl, Cynthia, after her mother was killed in an automobile accident last May.

Mr. Trenton, who now lives in Menominee, Mich., was divorced from his first wife, the former Patricia Christ, in 1951, and she was awarded custody of the child by the decree.

The high court found nothing unfair about the Trentons but said it "sees genuine risk to this child's wellbeing in the proposed change . . . because she has had no opportunity to develop real attachment to her father . . ."

Missionary Talks At Women's Meet

Miss Violet Popp, former resident, a missionary on furlough from Jordan, last night addressed members of the Western District Baptist Federation during a dinner meeting held at Nave's Dining Room.

She will return to Jordan in the near future to continue her missionary work. Formerly she was employed as a nurse at Memorial Hospital.

The federation is made up of business women of churches in Allegany and Garrett counties. President of the federation is Miss Orpha Boggs. About 30 persons attended the dinner meeting.

Scouters To Attend Training Institute

About 25 Scouters from Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will attend a Region 3 Training Institute in Indiana, Pa., today.

The area delegates will represent all districts and will attend one of seven courses which will be offered by members of the national staff, according to Wilis V. Smith, council executive.

Fuller and Mrs. Marie Lear. Mr. Dorn was guest speaker for the program, held in connection with the observance of National Coin Week.

81 Allegany High Juniors To Take Scholarship Test

Some 81 members of the Junior Class of Allegany High School are planning to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, according to J. R. Snyder, guidance counselor.

Mr. Snyder announces that the test will be given in the school cafeteria on Tuesday. The test will be scored during the summer and results returned to the school by August 15.

For the first three years of the merit program the test was given during October of the senior year. Many administrators indicated that they would prefer the testing at the end of the junior year so they would have a full academic year in which to help students in light of these scores.

The program has been changed from an aptitude test to a test of educational development. The new three-hour test will provide five sub scores and a composite score.

Planning to take the test are Susan Bell, Charles Storer, Robert Funk, John Fradiska, Max Horchler, Beverly Holcomb, Betty Lou Long, Robert Gornall, Michael Moore, Michael McKenzie, James Hager, Jane Nommensen, Kathryn Shaffer.

EASTER SEAL LUCKY BUCKS NEEDED NOW

Lucky Bucks continue to arrive at the headquarters of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children but more are needed.

Yesterday 21 Lucky Bucks were received as part of the Easter Seal campaign. The total is $9,335.

The money will be used to carry on the work of the league which has a goal of $12,000.

Board Gets Petitions To Employ Welsh

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received two petitions from county residents requesting that William Welsh, by virtue of a Civil Service examination taken about October 25, 1955, from which he was appointed humane officer to be transferred to county employment in the same manner as other employees of the City Health Department.

The petitions signed by 116 persons pointed out Mr. Welsh was one of the few employees of the City Health Department doing work for the county who had taken the Civil Service test.

50-Year Pins To Be Given Local Eagles

During a regular meeting next Tuesday night, 11 members of Cumberland Aerie, 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will receive 50-year membership pins while eight others will be presented with 40-year pins.

Glen W. Sonner, worthy president, who said that the meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m., pointed out that the members have held continuous membership in the local Aerie since 1908 and 1918.

The presentation of the Eagle emblem lapel pins will be made by past state president of the FOE, C. William H. Baer, during appropriate ceremonies.

Receiving 50-year pins will be William T. Grimmering, Jacob C. Harper, James W. Long, Joseph R. McKnight, Edward J. Logsdon, Ned Cheshire, James L. Gormer, Charles F. Heller, Thomas M. Mullan, Louis J. Shinholt and William I. Mills.

Those who will receive 40-year pins are Raymond R. Johnston, Lewis M. Hartung, Paul Goldsworthy, Raymond J. Rohman, Jacob W. Rawlings, Julian L. Shanholt, Raymond C. Allen and Carl H. Koerner.

A social hour will follow under the direction of the Board of Trustees.

Two Charged As Parole Violators

Petitions for action of the Circuit Court for violations of parole were filed Thursday against James W. Fadley and William Franklin Radcliff by State's Attorney James S. Getty in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The petitions state that Fadley was on July 3 found guilty of assault and sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. The sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for three years.

Fadley is charged with violation of his parole by breaking and entering the Christopher Photo Lab on Oldtown Road on April 10.

Radcliff was found guilty of the crime of breaking and entering and sentenced to 10 years in the Maryland Penitentiary on May 20, 1957. The sentence was suspended for 10 years at the time.

He is charged in the petitions with violation of his parole by the theft of tires from Hare's Used Car Lot, 219 South Mechanic Street on April 5, and by entering the Christopher Photo Lab on Oldtown Road on April 10.

The two will be given a hearing Monday at 10 a. m. on the charges following the completion of scheduled appeals.

Rev. Kulp To Speak At Youth Rally

Rev. Henry W. Kulp, pastor of the Altoona Bible Church, will speak at the Tri-State Youth for Christ rally today at 7:45 p. m. Rev. Kulp, known to the Tri-State area through his television program, plans to bring some of his T. V. talent to present a musical program.

A Bible quiz will be conducted between Bruce and Valley and Hyndman and Salisbury teams.

All But Two Beer Permits Are Issued

Hearings Set For May 6

All but two beer licenses were issued yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

Yet to be issued are a Class D beer license to Hugh Kifer, of Main Street, Barton, and Mayne E. Brick, Mayfair Tavern, Winchester Road.

A spokesman for the commissioners said last night the two licenses that have not been issued are new ones and the applicants will be given hearings during a regular meeting on May 6 at the Court House.

Some 273 renewals were issued. Richard Howell, of Barton, who had applied for a renewal of his license, withdrew his application.

Prior to the start of the board's session in court room at the Court House the applicants were addressed by Edward M. Akers, chief investigator of the Alcoholic Beverages Division of the state comptroller's office.

Akers told the licensees that they are engaged in a "hazardous and dangerous" business because of the temptation to minors and also the need for observance of closing hours. He said he realizes it is difficult to ascertain the ages of young women from 17 to 21 years old.

Akers urged the licensees to observe closing hours and other regulations, including those of the state comptroller's office.

Pedestrian Safety Need Stressed By Blind Woman

The important task of educating the pedestrian to his role in modern-day traffic was cited last night in a talk by Mrs. Hellen Tullis, blind Baltimore woman who is chairman of the pedestrian safety campaign of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

Mrs. Tullis, who is on a statewide tour promoting pedestrian safety, spoke to representatives of civic, church, parent-teacher organizations and the City Police Department. She spoke at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

She said she was selected earlier this year to head the safety program after the increased number of traffic deaths during the first few months of 1958. Her appointment was made by Paul E. Burke, chairman of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, who said he felt Mrs. Tullis was well-qualified because of her pedestrian safety training.

Mrs. Tullis said a campaign of education, legislation and enforcement must be carried out in order to bring pedestrian safety up to date.

"The pedestrian has a new responsibility and each person should know this responsibility," Mrs. Tullis said. Everyone should know and obey the traffic rules and a good way to bring this about would be to introduce courses on pedestrian safety at all grade levels in schools, she added.

Pedestrian rules have changed during the past several years and the public must be brought up-to-date on these changes in order to be protected, the safety chairman emphasized.

She called upon all the representatives at last night's meeting to try and acquaint the public on this ever-growing problem in traffic so pedestrian safety can keep abreast in this modern time.

Mrs. Tullis was accompanied on her trip by her leader dog "Pete," and also visited a Cub Scout dinner earlier in the evening.

Daylight Time Goes Into Effect Early Tomorrow

Residents of Allegany County and many parts of this section are reminded that Eastern Daylight Time will go into effect at 2 a. m. tomorrow.

Timepieces will be set ahead tomorrow morning and will remain on daylight time until October 26.

The only county in the state that will not be on fast time will be Garrett County. This is largely a technicality since, Oakland, the county seat, and many other communities will observe daylight time.

No major changes have been made in train schedules by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, although B&O passenger service between Baltimore and New York will be discontinued with the advent of fast time.

The period of more evening daylight will last six months and will change the living habits of many residents of this section.

Delegates Named To URWA Meetings

Delegates to two URWA meetings have been elected by Local 26, Rubber Workers Union. Stanley Zorick and Oliver W. Smith, with A. E. Johnson, president, will represent the Kelly local at the Skilled Trades conference to be held May 8 in Cincinnati.

Mr. Johnson and Clyde O'Baker will represent the local at the URWA Policy Committee meeting which will be held in Cincinnati May 9 and 10.

Three Classes RC First Aid Are Completed

The number of persons trained in basic or standard first aid in this county is steadily increasing, as more than a dozen qualified Red Cross instructors continue to conduct classes, according to Robert Thwaites Jr., chairman of the county Red Cross first aid committee.

Three additional classes recently completed their basic study and a number of the graduates have enrolled for advanced Red Cross first aid, Mr. Thwaites said.

In the Luke-Westernport area, Ruth L. Kelly, 90 West Hampshire Street, Piedmont, has just completed instructing a class of 16 Senior Girl Scouts between the ages of 16 and 18. All completed the standard course with high ratings.

This class included Elaine Anta, Pratt Street, Luke; Deanne Baldwin, 136 Queen Street, McCoole; Dolores Cowatch, 102 Waverly Street, Westernport; Betty Lou Fike, 202 Wood Street, Westernport; Faith Grindle, 202 Vine Street, Westernport; Patricia Kelley, 418 Pratt Street, Luke; Pauline Kookan, 303 Walnut Street, Westernport.

Bonnie Kookan, 300 Johnson Street, Westernport; Nancy Miller, Cromwell Street, Luke; Eileen Naughton, 305 Spruce Street, Westernport; Marsha Ann Seaber, 405 Walnut Street, Westernport; Margaret Strong, 220 Miller Street, Westernport; Peggie Hitt, 120 Washington Street, Westernport; Linda Lee Douglas, Bloomington, and Marion Cave, 137 Mullen Street, Luke.

Mrs. Bella M. Tonry, Red Cross branch chairman helped organize the class.

Another instructor, Brace E. Lee, 1027 Frederick Street, reports two classes, each sponsored by the C&A Gas Company have graduated and have received their certificates.

Among the participants were Arthur B. Bland, 323 Arch Street; Fred R. Bennett, 506 Baltimore Avenue; Joseph E. Dersin, RFD 1, Ridgeley; Donald Emerick, Ellerslie; Clarence W. Gorsuch, LaVale; Delbert C. Leese, Brant Road, Cresaptown; Allen W. Liller, Main Road, Wiley Ford; Earl J. Lichty, 558 Braddock Avenue, LaVale; Ernest E. Painter, 16 Oak Street.

Carl E. Robinette, RFD No. 5, city; Robert P. Small, RFD No. 1, Oldtown; Charles L. Twigg, 32 Blackstone Avenue; and Lemuel Yokum, RFD No. 3, city.

In a second class, Mr. Lee said the following qualified and have graduated. Elwood Anderson, 856 Sperry Terrace; Jack Ault, 212 North Lee Street; Robert Birmingham, 456 Baltimore Avenue; Robert Cowden, 126 Paca Street; James Froelich, RFD 3, Bedford, Pa.

Senate Hopefuls Boast Of Vote Getting Appeal

Mahoney Sees Demo Area Chances Good

By The Associated Press
Two Senate candidates, James Bruce and George P. Mahoney, made more boasts Friday night about their vote getting appeal in the counties.

Bruce added Baltimore County to the list of those he is confident of carrying in the May 20 primary.

He declared in a statement: "Ever since this campaign began I've been hearing that no one can defeat George P. Mahoney in Baltimore County. Some of my friends had me almost convinced."

"But having taken time out to review the facts, I have concluded that the legend of Mahoney's invincibility in Baltimore County is simply a lot of twaddle and sheer nonsense."

Mahoney, a paving contractor in Baltimore County and like Bruce, a Democrat, wound up a three-day tour of Maryland's two western-most counties. He concluded that Democratic candidates have a better chance of carrying those counties this year than they have had in many years.

Mahoney said in a statement released at his Baltimore headquarters he was amazed at the number of Republicans in Western Maryland who have told him they would vote for him in the general election if he wins the primary.

Meanwhile, these were other political developments:

Clarence D. Long, brought his walk-talk-hand shaking technique to Worcester County on the lower Eastern Shore. The Johns Hopkins University economics professor proposed that a "Bureau of Consumer Protection" should be set up in Washington to look out for the interests of the consumer.

Long, another Democratic Senate candidate, said such an agency is needed especially during a time of economic recession.

J. Millard Tawes, aspirant for governor on the Democrats' "harmony" slate, boosted the proposal for rebuilding a 22-acre area in downtown Baltimore with new office buildings, a hotel and TV theater center.

Man Seeks Remedy For Road Hazard

A Keyser area resident who lives on McMullen Highway Extended has written to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners seeking a remedy to a hazard which has developed along the road where he resides. In a letter to the board, Harold Broadwater, of RD 3, Keyser, points out that where he lives it is more of a residential section rather than a highway.

However, he said, "the traffic is becoming hazardous; in fact teen-agers and a few adults are using this road for a speedway."

Realizing State Police are very busy and "can't spend much time on this small road," Mr. Broadwater would like to suggest a sign which may be of some help such as "Slow—Residential Area; Reduce Speed, Children Playing."

Since it is no longer U.S. Route 220, Mr. Broadwater is asking if the speed limit could be posted at 25 miles per hour.

A postscript to the letter said that "if this is not within your jurisdiction, will you be kind enough to help me get some protection for our children by placing this with the proper authorities?"

Stud Services Available To County Farmers

Farmers of Allegany County can now get stud services of Pond Gate Mister which has been purchased by the Co-Ops, West Virginia Artificial Breeders and Maryland Artificial Breeding Cooperative.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said yesterday the service is available through Harry Miller, technician of the Allegany Artificial Breeding circuit. He is a supervisor of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of Potomac Valley. His telephone number in Frostburg is 928, Mr. Steger said.

"Mister" is officially classified very good and has earned the Gold Medal Award from the Holstein-Friesian Association. This is the highest honor a bull can win and signifies that the bull has, through his daughters, demonstrated superior production and superior type.
